SPECIAL SESSION OF SENATE
MUST BE CALLED BEFORE

TAX REDUCTION AND FLOOD RE-LIEF PROGRAMS MUST BE OUTLINED

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 3.—President Coolidge will have a multitude of important problems to consider when he returns to Washington next week.

An ambassador to Mexico must be selected and a governor-general of Philippines chosen; a special session of the senate will have to be called before October 20; tax reduction and flood relief programs must be outlined before the regular session begins; a naval building program must be formulated.

Mr. Coolidge has taken an earnest vacation out here. He has permitted everything to pile up until his return. Only two minor appointments have been made since he left Washington and only necessary business has been transacted.

Only a few cabinet members and congressmen have been able to make the long trip to Rapid City and the president has practically been out of touch with routine governmental affairs since he left Washington. Only important dispatches have been sent to him by various government chiefs who preferred to let everything slide along if possible until his return.

Hence Mr. Coolidge was expecting to work diligently when he gets home to catch up. He will arrive at the renovated White House a week from tomorrow night.

Mr. Coolidge had completed work on his final speech in the west to be delivered next Saturday at dedication of Lincoln Library, South Dakota Agricultural College, Brookings, S. D. It has been wired to Washington to be printed by government printers—the only speech which has been so handled since it came west. It was expected to be an expansive statement of his views on farm conditions as gleaned from his Black Hills vacation.

This afternoon he was to receive 150 members of Hermosa Congregationalist church which he attends. They are regular church members with whom he has worshipped each Sunday.

A cavalry band from Fort Meade, S. D., will furnish music on the summer White House lawn.

MURIEL MOORE, 8 YEAR OLD VOYAGER, GRANTS INTERVIEW

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Eight-year-old Muriel Moore, of San Francisco, granted ship news reporters an interview today before sailing alone on the French liner Paris. She carried with her an empty hat box, a suitcase and her year-old doll, Mary, and was very bored by it all.

"I am going to join my grandmother and grandfather on a farm near Paris," she said, as newspapermen made a fuss over her. "My mother lives in San Francisco. My father lives in Seattle. No, I don't know their addresses."

Pressed for further information, Muriel walked away.

"That is all I care to say," she said.

OPERATORS AND EXHIBITORS'
OFFICIALS CONFER 3 HOURS,
NO RESULTS

AFTER THE ADJOURNMENT AN-NOUNCE SITUATION IS
"UNCHANGED"

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Although Chicago moving picture operators and exhibitors' officials conferred for three hours early today, they adjourned to announce the situation was "unchanged," and the city would probably continue to be "movieless" over the coming holiday.

Mayor William Hale Thompson entered the lockout controversy last night when he persuaded the factions to confer in an effort to settle their differences. The fact they agreed at all was regarded as a hopeful sign and it was hoped other conferences might be arranged.

The conference today hinged upon the single difference which resulted in the lockout—the discharge of two operators at one theater belonging to a syndicate and subsequent strike called on the syndicate.

Since the lockout was ordered Monday, theaters in various cities outside Chicago have been affected, either because they were allied with syndicates operating in Chicago or because of independent difference with the theatrical unions.

Mayor Thompson had planned a fishing trip for the week-end but announced he would remain in town and devote his efforts toward settling the strike.

GOV. CHRISTIANSON RESTING EASILY AT HOSPITAL

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Gov. Theodore Christianson is resting easily today at St. Mary's hospital here following his operation Friday.

At noon he was asleep, and had been for a couple of hours.

Dr. Charles Mayo, who performed the operation, examined him today and expressed himself as well pleased with the condition of the state's chief executive.

The governor, attending physicians said passed a fairly comfortable night, and this morning was as good as could be expected after passing through the operation.

COL. LINDBERGH HOPS OFF FROM CHEYENNE FOR SALT LAKE CITY

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off from here in his Spirit of St. Louis monoplane at 6:20 a. m. today for Salt Lake City, Utah. Only a few persons were at the flying field when he took off, Col. Lindbergh having changed his original plans to leave at 8 a. m.

DOZEN POLICEMEN CHASE MAD DOG IN CHICAGO LOOP

CAPT. COURTNEY AT LENGTH STARTS ATLANTIC FLIGHT

BEGINS HIS TRANS-OCEANIC FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

4 IN PLANE, LEAVE ENGLAND
FOR AZORES ISLANDS, 1,400
MILES AWAY

Plymouth, Eng., Sept. 3.—(UP)—With an elderly man whose identity is unconfirmed but who was believed to be E. B. Hosmer of the Bank of Montreal, Canada, as a passenger, Captain Frank T. Courtney today began his trans-Atlantic flight to New York.

After two unsuccessful attempts, his Dornier-Napier all-metal flying boat Whale rose perfectly at 6:36 A. M. today and was off to Horta, Azores Islands, 1,440 miles to the southwest.

The large seaplane, which has a wing area of 1,000 square feet, carried two other persons, R. F. Little, engineer, and Flight Lieutenant F. W. M. Downer, navigator, in addition to Courtney and his passenger. Courtney's plans were to refuel at Horta, start almost immediately for Newfoundland, refuel there, and take off for New York. If he reaches New York, he planned to fly back to England by way of Newfoundland and Valencia, Ireland.

Courtney's departure today was sudden. It came after weeks of delay caused by unfavorable weather and the need for minor repairs to the ship. A number of attempts had been made previous to today to take off but all of them were unsuccessful as the Whale had refused to leave the water.

The British airman had announced last night that the start would not be made today but apparently the ideal weather conditions caused him to change his mind.

Only yesterday he piloted the Whale to the Cattewater airdrome here from Calshot airdrome at Southampton. He spent the night at the airdrome. Mrs. Courtney arrived at the airdrome shortly before midnight and watched until dawn the last preparations on the Whale.

Courtney came to his plane at 6 A. M. and decided to go. He taxied to the starting position and his wife followed in a launch. The launch was drawn up beside the Whale and the flier and his wife exchanged affectionate farewells.

She cheered as the ship started and excitedly waved a handkerchief until it passed out of sight.

London, Sept. 3.—The Guessant wireless station received a message from the trawler Oratic at 7:35 A. M., Greenwich mean time, reporting sighting a grey plane at latitude 48.20 north, longitude 8.40 west. The plane was flying at a height of 200 yards and was flying south.

The position given is about 115 miles southwest of Landsend.

The plane was believed to be Captain Courtney's Whale flying boat.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 3.—The Montreal Star today definitely identified the mysterious passenger in Captain Courtney's trans-Atlantic plane as Elwood B. Hosmer, son of C. R. Hosmer, the Star said.

The Hosmer family is one of the wealthiest and most prominent in Montreal.

Hosmer's friends have known for some time that he hoped to make such a trip.

Cologne, Germany, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The premature explosion of a blasting charge in a quarry near Cassel resulted in the death of 11 and the serious injury of four workers.

WITH PLANE ON FIRE HE DIVED FOR RAIN CLOUD

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 3.—(UP)—When Lieut. L. Emilio Carranza, Mexican aviator flying from Mexico City to Juarez in a non-stop 1,200 mile flight, discovered a fire in his plane, he prepared to jump in his parachute.

Below him lay the desert, upon which he possibly could not have survived, and near him in the plane was an extra supply of gasoline.

"I was afraid the gasoline would explode any moment," Carranza said, "and was prepared to jump when I saw a rain cloud a short distance ahead. Turning the nose of the plane that way, I sped for the cloud and rain extinguished the flames before great damage was done."

The flight was considered as hazardous as an oceanic flight for desolate country between the two cities would not sustain life, officials said. Carranza is a nephew of the Venustiano Carranza, former president of the republic.

"ROYAL WINDSOR" HOPES TO RESUME FLIGHT TODAY

REPAIRS ON PLANE NOW AT ST
JOHNS ALMOST COM-

RUNWAY PREPARED SO AS TO GIVE A SMOOTH
TAKE-OFF

St. Johns, Que., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Phil Wood, navigator of the "Royal Windsor," Windsor, Ont., to Windsor England plane, told the United Press this morning that he and Clarence "Duke" Schiller hoped to resume their flight between 11 and 12 A. M. today.

Repairs on the plane were almost completed. A runway had been prepared so that the plane would have a smooth road before being lifted into the air.

The plane had one of its wings singed by fire and this caused the men to bring it to earth near St. Gregoire, eight miles from here, on Thursday about 7:30. In alighting one skid was loosened. It looked like several days' work to repair the skid. The village blacksmith was called in and although he had never seen an airplane except at great distances above his head, he turned out to be a mechanic of workmanlike ability. He took great delight in helping the two aviators and will have the repairs finished in a few hours.

The weather was clearing and a haze that had hung over this section for two days, was lifting.

He arrived at the hangar shortly after noon today to take the Columbia into the air on test flights.

NEXT STOP TO BE KARACHI, CITY IN INDIA

IN FIRST WEEK OF THEIR TRIP
THEY COVERED 4,995
MILES

ROUTE THEY HAVE SELECTED
TOTALS 23,067 MILES
AROUND WORLD

Bagdad, Sept. 3.—(UP)—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee at 7 A. M. today resumed their airplane flight around the world which they began a week ago today at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

Their next stop was to be Bender Abbas, Persia, 885 miles away. It was unlikely that they would continue beyond there today, as the next landing field on their itinerary Karachi, India, was 710 miles beyond Bender Abbas.

During the first week of their flight they covered approximately 4,995 of the approximately 23,067 miles represented in the route they have chosen for the journey. Unless they better the time of their first week they will fail to beat the record of Linton Wells and Edward Evans who circled the globe in 28½ days, using all means of transportation.

Brock and Schlee were very tired when they arrived at Bagdad yesterday.

To reduce the weight of their plane they had dropped their brakes. As a result, they were unable to land on the airways as there was not room enough to bring the Pride of Detroit to a halt. They crossed the Tigris river and landed at Hinaidi without difficulty.

Brock and Schlee left Constantinople yesterday at 5:20 A. M. and without stopping at Aleppo, Syria, they landed at Bagdad at 7:30 P. M. The distance was 1,075 miles.

Their journey during the first week was as follows:

Sunday—arrived at Croydon, Eng. land, after covering 2,350 miles.

Monday—Left Croydon and arrived at 4 P. M. at Munich, 580 miles.

Tuesday—Left Munich and arrived at Belgrade at noon, 510 miles. Remained there because of storms in their path ahead.

Wednesday—Left Belgrade for Constantinople, 490 miles, arrived there at 11:55 A. M. Held there because they had neglected to obtain permission to fly over Turkish territory.

Thursday—Still held at Constantinople, same reason.

Friday—Left Constantinople for Bagdad, 1,075 miles, where they arrived last night.

Saturday—left Bagdad for Bender Abbas, Persia, 885 miles.

After relatively short flights across southern Asia, Brock and Schlee before returning to the United States have three comparatively long and difficult flights ahead.

The first will be from Tokio to Sand Island, of Midway Islands, a dot in the Pacific, much smaller than any of the Hawaiian Islands. That jump will be 2,480 miles.

From Sand Island they must take off for Honolulu, 1,440 miles, and from Honolulu to San Francisco, 2,440 miles.

Karachi, India, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from Bender Abbas today said the round-the-world monoplane, the Pride of Detroit, arrived from Bagdad at 3 P. M., Indian time.

Indian time is 10½ hours ahead of eastern standard time. The time mentioned would correspond to 4:30 A. M., E. S. T.

ST. PAUL MAN IN HARD LUCK ROLE, TAKEN IN OMAHA

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Asserting he was the victim of "designing politicians," Don E. Debow of St. Paul, Minn., faced a charge of vagrancy today following his arrest when he appeared in Omaha to organize an Al Smith-for-president club.

Debow said he was secretary of the National Liberty league, a wet organization. Omaha democrats said he was not authorized to represent Smith.

DANISH STEAMER BELIEVED TO
HAVE SIGHTED PLANE 900
MILES OFF IRELAND

London, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Evidence was accumulating today to indicate that Princess Anne Lowenstein-Wertheim and her companions in the missing monoplane St. Raphael had plunged into the mid-Atlantic and died in their effort to fly from Upavon, England to Ottawa, Canada.

The Danish steamer Josiah Macy was believed by many persons to have sighted the St. Raphael at an altitude of 1,000 feet about 900 miles off the coast of Ireland Wednesday night. The vessel reported by wireless yesterday that an airplane had been sighted.

Additional information was received from the Josiah Macy today as follows:

"The airplane may have been a monoplane. Its registration marks were not visible because of darkness. The plane passed the Josiah Macy at about 1,000 feet and at speed estimated at about 80 miles an hour. Visibility was about 10 miles."

Guatemala Cancels Registry of Liquor Carrying Federalship

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The Guatemalan government has cancelled registry given the famous liquor carrying Federalship following Panamanian repudiation of Panamanian registry of the vessel, according to government advices today.

This action, according to some officials here, leaves the Federalship a pirate, subject to seizure even beyond the United States 12 mile limit. She is reported now to be somewhere off the Pacific coast with a cargo of bootleg goods picked up in Tahiti.

FIREWORKS FACTORY EXPLOSION KILLS 13 IN ARGENTINA

Villa Humberto, Argentina, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Thirteen dead, 11 of them young women, and one seriously injured was the casualty list today of an explosion in a fireworks factory here. The bodies were burned beyond recognition. Two persons were still missing.

NATIONAL FORCES IN CHINA MEET CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

London, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The nationalist forces have met cholera, an enemy more powerful than the northern war lords and their troops, Sir Percival Phillips reported today to the Daily Mail.

The situation was described as especially bad in Nanking, capital of the moderate nationalist government, where people were said to be dying in the streets in such great numbers that hundreds remained unburied. Pollution of the rivers aggravated the danger.

Medical aid is inadequate to cope with the outbreak. Sir Percival reported a marked increase in cholera at Shanghai also.

PLANS MADE TO SPEED UP DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

NEW POLICY OF PROHIBITION
BUREAU ANNOUNCED BY
DEPARTMENT HEAD

TO INVESTIGATE ALL REPORTS
OF OPERATION OF STILLS OR
WILDCAT BREWERIES

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Sept. 3.—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman plans to undertake to speed up prohibition enforcement by having the general public co-operate in detecting sources of bootleg liquor.

A new policy of the prohibition bureau is to investigate all reports of operation of stills or wildcat breweries, it was learned today.

All personal complaints sent to Lowman or other dry officers of liquor law violations will be investigated by trained federal operatives.

The treasury, however, believes that only reports on sources of supply should be made to the government. Minor offenders should be reported to local authorities as the federal force is too busy to look into every complaint of home brewing or wine making.

Lowman now has a force of nearly 17,000 federal agents enforcing the provisions of the Volstead act. The prohibition bureau has 3,778 employees in the field and 348 at dry headquarters.

The coast guard, America's dry navy, has a personnel of 11,000 officers and men, and the customs bureau has 550 men patrolling the borders to prevent smuggling.

The immigration bureau of the labor department now has 761 men patrolling the Canadian and Mexican borders to prevent illegal entry of aliens, and has 752 immigration inspectors along the boundaries. While these men are directly under Lowman, they co-operate in preventing rum running.

Lowman hopes to build up his "army" and "navy" to even greater strength. He plans to simplify office procedure and, by efficiency measures, to reduce the number of clerks handling routine. The clerks thus dispensed with, will ultimately be replaced by dry agents.

The assistant secretary plans to shake up his forces often to keep his men "on their toes continually." In the last two months, he has made changes in personnel in Ohio, Michigan, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. He has also changed the territorial groupings of districts No. 18 and 19 to include Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming, and Montana, Idaho and Utah, for what he deemed "the good of the service."

Other changes in district No. 20, Washington, Oregon and Alaska are expected after he decided the case of Administrator Roy C. Lyle. He has not decided whether to retain, dismiss or transfer Lyle but it is certain minor officials and agents in the zone will be "shaken up" after charges of bribery and corruption have been investigated.

Lowman stated the Lyle case will be decided in 10 days, if Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. attorney general, returns to Washington in time to advise the treasury on legal action to be taken.

NERVES WORN TO SHREDS, NEIGHBORS HEAR BAGPIPES

Sandwich, Ont., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Residents here are in a quandary. A young Scot is learning to play the bagpipes, and they do not like the "music."

The law has ruled a Scot may play the pipes here in his own back yard. There also is a curfew law that all noises must cease at 9 p. m.

So nightly the Scot parades in his back yard coaxing discord from his doodad. At 8:59 p. m. he quits.

The police can't do a thing about it, they admitted.

TOTALS 23,067 MILES
AROUND WORLD

Bagdad, Sept. 3.—(UP)—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee at 7 A. M. today resumed their airplane flight around the world which they began a week ago today at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

Their next stop was to be Bender Abbas, Persia, 885 miles away. It was unlikely that they would continue beyond there today, as the next landing field on their itinerary Karachi, India, was 710 miles beyond Bender Abbas.

During the first week of their flight they covered approximately 4,995 of the approximately 23,067 miles represented in the route they have chosen for the journey. Unless they better the time of their first week they will fail to beat the record of Linton Wells and Edward Evans who circled the globe in 28 1/2 days, using all means of transportation.

Brock and Schlee were very tired when they arrived at Bagdad yesterday.

To reduce the weight of their plane they had dropped their brakes. As a result, they were unable to land on the airways as there was not room enough to bring the Pride of Detroit to a halt. They crossed the Tigris river and landed at Hinaldi without difficulty.

Brock and Schlee left Constantinople yesterday at 5:20 A. M. and without stopping at Aleppo, Syria, they landed at Bagdad at 7:30 P. M. The distance was 1,075 miles.

Their journey during the first week was as follows:

Sunday—arrived at Croydon, England, after covering 2,350 miles.

Monday—Left Croydon and arrived at 4 P. M. at Munich, 580 miles.

Tuesday—Left Munich and arrived at Belgrade at noon, 510 miles. Remained there because of storms in their path ahead.

Wednesday—Left Belgrade for Constantinople, 490 miles, arrived there at 11:55 A. M. Held there because they had neglected to obtain permission to fly over Turkish territory.

Thursday—Still held at Constantinople, same reason.

Friday—Left Constantinople for Bagdad, 1,075 miles, where they arrived last night.

Saturday—left Bagdad for Bender Abbas, Persia, 885 miles.

After relatively short flights across southern Asia, Brock and Schlee before returning to the United States have three comparatively long and difficult flights ahead.

The first will be from Tokio to Sand Island, of Midway Islands, a dot in the Pacific, much smaller than any of the Hawaiian Islands. That jump will be 2,480 miles.

From Sand Island they must take off for Honolulu, 1,440 miles, and from Honolulu to San Francisco, 2,440 miles.

Karachi, India, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from Bender Abbas today said the round-the-world monoplane, the Pride of Detroit, arrived from Bagdad at 3 P. M., Indian time.

Indian time is 10 1/2 hours ahead of eastern standard time. The time mentioned would correspond to 4:30 A. M., E. S. T.

ST. PAUL MAN IN HARD LUCK ROLE, TAKEN IN OMAHA

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Asserting he was the victim of "designing politicians," Don E. Debow of St. Paul, Minn., faced a charge of vagrancy today following his arrest when he appeared in Omaha to organize an Al Smith-for-president club.

Debow said he was secretary of the National Liberty league, a wet organization. Omaha democrats said he was not authorized to represent Smith.

DANISH STEAMER BELIEVED TO
HAVE SIGHTED PLANE 900
MILES OFF IRELAND

London, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Evidence was accumulating today to indicate that Princess Anne Lowenstein-Wertheim and her companions in the missing monoplane St. Raphael had plunged into the mid-Atlantic and died in their effort to fly from Upavon, England to Ottawa, Canada.

The Danish steamer Josiah Macy was believed by many persons to have sighted the St. Raphael at an altitude of 1,000 feet, about 900 miles off the coast of Ireland Wednesday night. The vessel reported by wireless yesterday that an airplane had been sighted.

Additional information was received from the Josiah Macy today as follows:

"The airplane may have been a monoplane. Its registration marks were not visible because of darkness. The plane passed the Josiah Macy at about 1,000 feet and at speed estimated at about 80 miles an hour. Visibility was about 10 miles."

Guatemala Cancels Registry of Liquor Carrying Federalship

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The Guatemalan government has cancelled registry given the famous liquor carrying Federalship following Panamanian repudiation of Panamanian registry of the vessel, according to government advices today.

This action, according to some officials here, leaves the Federalship a pirate, subject to seizure even by the United States 12 mile limit. She is reported now to be somewhere off the Pacific coast with a cargo of bootleg goods picked up in Tahiti.

FIREWORKS FACTORY EXPLOSION KILLS 13 IN ARGENTINA

Villa Humberto, Argentina, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Thirteen dead, 11 of them young women, and one seriously injured was the casualty list today of an explosion in a fireworks factory here. The bodies were burned beyond recognition. Two persons were still missing.

NATIONAL FORCES IN CHINA MEET CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

London, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The nationalist forces have met cholera, an enemy more powerful than the northern war lords and their troops, Sir Percival Phillips reported today to the Daily Mail.

The situation was described as especially bad in Nanking, capital of the moderate nationalist government, where people were said to be dying in the streets in such great numbers that hundreds remained unburied. Pollution of the rivers aggravated the danger.

Medical aid is inadequate to cope with the outbreak. Sir Percival reported a marked increase in cholera at Shanghai also.

PLANS MADE TO SPEED UP DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

NEW POLICY OF PROHIBITION
BUREAU ANNOUNCED BY
DEPARTMENT HEAD

TO INVESTIGATE ALL REPORTS
OF OPERATION OF STILL OR
WILDCAT BREWERIES

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 3.—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman plans to undertake to speed up prohibition enforcement by having the general public co-operate in detecting sources of bootleg liquor.

A new policy of the prohibition bureau is to investigate all reports of operation of stills or wildcat breweries, it was learned today.

All personal complaints sent to Lowman or other dry officers of liquor law violations will be investigated by trained federal operatives.

The treasury, however, believes that only reports on sources of supply should be made to the government. Minor offenders should be reported to local authorities as the federal force is too busy to look into every complaint of home brewing or wine making.

Lowman now has a force of nearly 17,000 federal agents enforcing the provisions of the Volstead act. The prohibition bureau has 3,778 employees in the field and 348 at dry headquarters.

The coast guard, America's dry navy, has a personnel of 11,000 officers and men, and the customs bureau has 550 men patrolling the borders to prevent smuggling.

The immigration bureau of the labor department now has 761 men patrolling the Canadian and Mexican borders to prevent illegal entry of aliens, and has 752 immigration inspectors along the boundaries. While these men are directly under Lowman, they co-operate in preventing rum running.

Lowman hopes to build up his "army" and "navy" to even greater strength. He plans to simplify office procedure and, by efficiency measures, to reduce the number of clerks handling routine. The clerks thus dispensed with, will ultimately be replaced by dry agents.

The assistant secretary plans to shake up his forces often to keep his men "on their toes continually." In the last two months, he has made changes in personnel in Ohio, Michigan, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. He has also changed the territorial groupings of districts No. 18 and 19 to include Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming, and Montana, Idaho and Utah, for what he deemed "the good of the service."

Other changes in district No. 20, Washington, Oregon and Alaska are expected after he decided the case of Administrator Roy C. Lyle. He has not decided whether to retain, dismiss or transfer Lyle but it is certain minor officials and agents in the zone will be "shaken up" after charges of bribery and corruption have been investigated.

Lowman stated the Lyle case will be decided in 10 days. If Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. attorney general, returns to Washington in time to advise the treasury on legal action to be taken.

NERVES WORN TO SHREDS, NEIGHBORS HEAR BAGPIPES

Sandwich, Ont., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Residents here are in a quandary. A young Scot is learning to play the bagpipes, and they do not like the "music."

The law has ruled a Scot may play the pipes here in his own back yard. There also is a curfew law that all noises must cease at 9 p. m.

So nightly the Scot parades in his back yard coaxing discord from his doodad. At 8:59 p. m. he quits.

The police can't do a thing about it, they admitted.

"OVER-POPULATION OF THE WORLD IS NOT SO FAR OFF"

MORE HUNGRY MOUTHS THAN WORLD CAN POSSIBLY FEED

WORLD WILL HAVE FIVE BILLION PEOPLE BY YEAR OF 2027

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Geneva, Sept. 1.—(UP)—American scientists gathered here yesterday warned all peoples that over-population of the world was not far off.

By over-population, the scientists meant that there would be more hungry mouths than the world could feed.

Cheap, synthetic food, said Prof. E. M. East of Harvard, is a dream or a nightmare, depending on how you feel about population. Without cheap, synthetic food, the world would be able to feed only 5,000,000,000 persons. At the present rate of increase, Professor East estimated, the world will attain that population by 2027.

Steps must be taken immediately, Professor East continued, to solve the population question. He advocated immediate formation of an international union to bring about a "just peace between humanity's two basic instincts, nutrition and reproduction."

Dr. Raymond Pearl, of Johns Hopkins university, told the conference that the growth of human population exactly followed the life curve of flies and microbes.

All three, he said, began increasing slowly, gaining impetus and then passing rapidly into the stage of rapid increase until they reached the maximum both in numbers and velocity of increase. Then reproduction began to decrease and finally was stabilized.

Pearl said he reached his conclusions after years of laboratory experiment where, after establishing the life curves of flies and microbes, he compared the curves with census statistics of the United States, France, England and other nations. All these followed the curve of flies and microbes.

Prof. H. P. Fairchild of New York university, told the conference that there were five major causes for attaining the maximum in world population. He listed these as follows:

1. The desire of nations to maintain their military strength.
2. The desire of despotic rulers to have the largest possible number of subjects.
3. The religious zeal of various sects desiring to have the greatest possible number of followers.
4. The cultural desire of certain nations to dominate the world with their particular traits.
5. Sheer megalomania, which desires bigness for its own sake.

Fairchild insisted on the eventual necessity of limiting population.

SHOT IN ABDOMEN. LAD DIES, FEARING TO TELL PARENTS

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Four days ago 10-year-old Francis Langer and his 7-year-old brother disobeyed their parents, and played with a rifle. Today Francis is dead, the victim of a bullet accidentally discharged from the gun. He died without telling of the shot, apparently fearing punishment for himself and brother.

When he became ill Francis told his parents he injured himself in a fall from a barn roof. A doctor was called, and the hole in his abdomen was discovered. Almost before the doctor's examination was completed, the boy lapsed into a coma. Death followed shortly.

After Francis was dead, his younger brother told the story of their playing with the gun, and the fatal shot, discharged, he said, accidentally.

DARWIN WAS RIGHT AND DAYTON WRONG

SIR ARTHUR KEITH, PRESIDENT OF BRITISH SCIENCE BODY, GIVES OPINION

ADDRESS DESCRIBES MAN AS RELATIVE OF ANTHROPOID APE

Leeds, Eng., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Darwin was right and Dayton, Tenn., was wrong in the opinion of Sir Arthur Keith, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. His address describing man as a relative of the anthropoid ape was discussed throughout the world today.

Sir Arthur's address was delivered Wednesday night at the opening of the association's annual meeting. Famous men in all branches of science were among the listeners. He said he spoke as the foreman of a jury empaneled from men who had devoted their life times to weighing evidence of man's origin. To the question, "Was Darwin right?" Sir Arthur said he and his jury replied, "Yes!"

"The evidence at our disposal," he said, supports the conclusion that man has arisen, as Darwin suspected, from the anthropoid ape and not from a higher zoological scale than the chimpanzee."

Man's age, Sir Arthur estimated, at about 1,000,000 years.

"The fundamentals of Darwin's outline of man's history remain unshaken," he continued. "I am convinced that it never can be shaken. The evidence of man's evolution, from an ape-like being as obtained from study of fossil remains is definite and irrefutable."

"Will the day ever come when we can explain why the brain of man made such progress while his cousin, the gorilla, fell far behind; or why inherited ability falls in one family and not in another; or why in cerebral endowment one race of mankind fared so much better than another. As yet we have no explanation to offer."

"Since Darwin's death we have succeeded in tracing the fossil remains of man backward to the plesiocene period and even further to the pliocene period."

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT RETURNING TURBANS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The return of the turban will be heralded by women of middle age if not by flappers. The prevalence, during the past few seasons, of severely tailored hats has almost driven dressy hats off the fashion map. Every hat had to be tailored in type. Soft lines were out of the question. Feathers and flower trimmings have been taboo for some seasons. In other words, hats have been designed for youthful faces of late. Matrons and elderly ladies had no alternative but to choose sports or semi-sports hats for most occasions.

Now comes the turban! To my mind, this is the most becoming hat which a mature woman can wear. It has dignity, softness of line and personality which the sports hat lacks. With the return of the turban comes word that velvet is to be the favorite medium for the fall and winter bonnet. This means that the older woman has an opportunity to get away from childish hats and skull caps which are not suited to her years.

Many varieties of turbans are being shown as advance models. Perhaps the most frequent type is the draped turban with folds crossing at the front and an inset of brocade above the eyes. This model is frequently carried out in black chiffon velvet. More exotic are the turbans which seem to be long strips of velvet wrapped about the head forming a peak at the front. This model can be carried out in two or more tones of velvet of the same general color to good effect. Unusual, too, is the turban which is shaped like a Bishop's cap. This is a bit more severe than the draped models and is usually carried out in hatter's plush or felt.

Among the many turbans shown recently is one combining a felt skull cap with folds of black velvet. Here the velvet folds are twined across the center of the cap from ear to ear forming crushed drapery over the ear-tabs.

Glittering evening turbans are models which can be worn by young women as well as matrons. They may be made of silver fabric or brocade to good effect and they offer a change from the large dinner hat which is generally chosen for informal hotel affairs.

4 BANK BANDITS STILL AT LARGE

ROBBED BANK AT ASHER, OKLA. SHOT VIGILANTE THROUGH LUNGS

Asher, Okla., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Four bandits who robbed the Canadian Valley State bank here of $2,657 and then engaged in a gun skirmish, with vigilantes shooting Bailey Crowder through the lungs, were still at large early today.

Meanwhile, in Shawnee Municipal hospital, physicians fought to save the life of Crowder, a druggist, who ran to the street and opened fire on the robbers as they fled to their car later abandoned northeast of here.

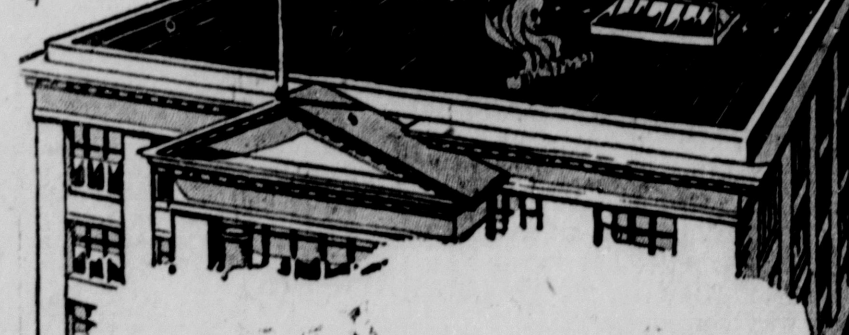

Crowder was described as in a dangerous condition.

The leader of the gang, who escaped afoot northwest of here and who "shot his way out" without entering the car, was sought as the possessor of the loot.

The other three escaped after abandoning the car.

A fire brand can't roll off a flat roof

BUT if that flat roof is covered with Johns-Manville Asbestos it does not need to roll off. It will simply burn out and that will be the end of the matter.

But if the roofing is inflammable that single fire brand may touch off a whole city. It is very apt to destroy the building on which it falls.

Roofs of Johns-Manville Asbestos are not only fireproof, they are everlastingly durable and exceedingly economical; for asbestos never requires painting, refinishing, or renewing of any sort.

Write, call, or telephone us for full information in regard to your roofing requirements.

"OVER-POPULATION OF THE WORLD IS NOT SO FAR OFF"

MORE HUNGRY MOUTHS THAN WORLD CAN POSSIBLY FEED

WORLD WILL HAVE FIVE BILLION PEOPLE BY YEAR OF 2027

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Geneva, Sept. 1.—(UP)—American scientists gathered with others at the World Population Conference which convened here yesterday warned all peoples that over-population of the world was not far off.

By over-population, the scientists meant that there would be more hungry mouths than the world could feed.

Cheap, synthetic food, said Prof. E. M. East of Harvard, is a dream or a nightmare, depending on how you feel about population. Without cheap, synthetic food, the world would be able to feed only 5,000,000 persons. At the present rate of increase, Professor East estimated, the world will attain that population by 2027.

Steps must be taken immediately, Professor East continued, to solve the population question. He advocated immediate formation of an international union to bring about a "just peace between humanity's two basic instincts, nutrition and reproduction."

Dr. Raymond Pearl, of Johns Hopkins university, told the conference that the growth of human population exactly followed the life curve of flies and microbes.

All three, he said, began increasing slowly, gaining impetus and then passing rapidly into the stage of rapid increase until they reached the maximum both in numbers and velocity of increase. Then reproduction began to decrease and finally was stabilized.

Pearl said he reached his conclusions after years of laboratory experiment where, after establishing the life curves of flies and microbes, he compared the curves with census statistics of the United States, France, England and other nations. All these followed the curve of flies and microbes.

Prof. H. P. Fairchild of New York university, told the conference that there were five major causes for attaining the maximum in world population. He listed these as follows:

1. The desire of nations to maintain their military strength.
2. The desire of despotic rulers to have the largest possible number of subjects.
3. The religious zeal of various sects desiring to have the greatest possible number of followers.
4. The cultural desire of certain nations to dominate the world with their particular traits.
5. Sheer megalomania, which desires bigness for its own sake.

Fairchild insisted on the eventual necessity of limiting population.

SHOT IN ABDOMEN, LAD DIES, FEARING TO TELL PARENTS

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Four days ago 10-year-old Francis Langer and his 7-year-old brother disobeyed their parents, and played with a rifle. Today Francis is dead, the victim of a bullet accidentally discharged from the gun. He died without telling his parents, apparently fearing punishment for himself and brother.

When he became ill Francis told his parents he injured himself in a fall from a barn roof. A doctor was called, and the hole in his abdomen was discovered. Almost before the doctor's examination was completed, the boy lapsed into a coma. Death followed shortly.

After Francis was dead, his younger brother told the story of their playing with the gun, and the fatal shot, discharged, he said, accidentally.

Harry Langdon in "Three's a Crowd"

Every one knows Harry Langdon and every one will enjoy his newest comedy "Three's a Crowd" showing at the Lyceum Sunday only.

"Kosher Kitty Kelly"

Flashing with the bright humor of the Irish and the sombre wit of the Jews, gay with the romances of a lovely Irish lass and a young Jewish girl, "Kosher Kitty Kelly," will be shown at the Lyceum tonight only. For sparkling situations, effervescent entertainment and delightful drollery this pleasing picture is refreshingly different. For all its comedy, there are moments of poignant pathos when rare depths of emotions are exposed.

TWO MESSENGERS ROBBED OF $15,000 PAYROLL BY BANDITS

Erie, Pa., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Two messengers for the Erie County Electric company were held up by three robbers today and robbed of the $15,000 payroll they were carrying.

The robbers made their escape in a Buick touring car, bearing an Illinois license plate. Police cars and motorcycles started after the car but 30 minutes after the holdup they had no clue as to the direction it took after leaving Erie.

TWO BOYS DROWNED IN ST. LOUIS BAY

Superior, Wis., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Two boys were drowned in St. Louis bay here late yesterday, one of them a hero endeavoring to rescue his chum. When Clinton Hurlburt, 13, dove into the water from a springboard, he came to the surface struggling. Arlington Miller, 14, went to his rescue. They were found later, locked in each other's arms.

SHOCK CAUSES DEATH OF CENTENARIAN

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 1.—(UP)—Shock resulting from the sight of her 70 year old daughter suffering from scalding while she lay helplessly by, caused the death of Mrs. Aurilia Walkup, 99, at her home here early today. Death was caused by apoplexy. Maria Walkup, spinster, was "calded" late yesterday when she accidentally overturned a kettle of water. She is in a critical condition.

DARWIN WAS RIGHT AND DAYTON WRONG

SIR ARTHUR KEITH, PRESIDENT OF BRITISH SCIENCE BODY, GIVES OPINION

ADDRESS DESCRIBES MAN AS RELATIVE OF ANTHROPOID APE

Leeds, Eng., Sept. 2.—(UP)—Darwin was right and Dayton, Tenn., was wrong in the opinion of Sir Arthur Keith, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. His address describing man as a relative of the anthropoid ape was discussed throughout the world today.

Sir Arthur's address was delivered Wednesday night at the opening of the association's annual meeting. Famous men in all branches of science were among the listeners. He said he spoke as the foreman of a jury empaneled from men who had devoted their life times to weighing evidence of man's origin. To the question, "Was Darwin right?" Sir Arthur said he and his jury replied, "Yes!"

"The evidence at our disposal," he said, supports the conclusion that man has arisen, as Darwin suspected, from the anthropoid ape and not from a higher zoological scale than the chimpanzee.

Man's age, Sir Arthur estimated, at about 1,000,000 years.

"The fundamentals of Darwin's outline of man's history remain unshaken," he continued. "I am convinced that it never can be shaken. The evidence of man's evolution from an ape-like being as obtained from study of fossil remains is definite and irrefutable."

"Will the day ever come when we can explain why the brain of man made such progress while his cousin, the gorilla, fell far behind; or why inherited ability falls in one family and not in another; or why in cerebral endowment one race of mankind fared so much better than another. As yet we have no explanation to offer."

"Since Darwin's death we have succeeded in tracing the fossil remains of man backward to the plesiocene period and even further to the pliocene period."

INVITED TO FLY FROM HONGKONG TO DALLAS, TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 3.—(UP)—An invitation to fly from Hongkong to Dallas for the $25,000 Easterwood prize was cabled today to William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee by William Easterwood, Dallas.

The cable was sent to Calcutta, which is one of the stopping points on the round the world flight of Schlee and Brock.

The flight from Hongkong to Dallas would not interfere with the completion of the world flight, inasmuch as it would include only a stop at Dallas to win the $25,000 prize for the first successful three stop flight between Dallas and Hongkong, Easterwood pointed out.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT RETURNING TURBANS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The return of the turban will be heralded by women of middle age if not by flappers. The prevalence, during the past few seasons, of severely tailored hats has almost driven dressy hats off the fashion map. Every hat had to be tailored in type. Soft lines were out of the question. Feathers and flower trimmings have been taboo for some seasons. In other words, hats have been designed for youthful faces of late. Matrons and elderly ladies had no alternative but to choose sports or semi-sports hats for most occasions.

Now comes the turban! To my mind, this is the most becoming hat which a mature woman can wear. It has dignity, softness of line and personality which the sports hat lacks. With the return of the turban comes word that velvet is to be the favorite medium for the fall and winter bonnet. This means that the older woman has an opportunity to get away from childish hats and skull caps which are not suited to her years.

Many varieties of turbans are being shown as advance models. Perhaps the most frequent type is the draped turban with folds crossing at the front and an inset of brocade above the eyes. This model is frequently carried out in black chiffon velvet. More exotic are the turbans which seem to be long strips of velvet wrapped about the head forming a peak at the front. This model can be carried out in two or more tones of velvet of the same general color to good effect. Unusual, too, is the turban which is shaped like a Bishop's cap. This is a bit more severe than the draped models and is usually carried out in hatter's plush or felt.

Among the many turbans shown recently is one combining a felt skull cap with folds of black velvet. Here the velvet folds are twined across the center of the cap from ear to ear forming crushed drapery over the ear-tabs.

Glittering evening turbans are models which can be worn by young women as well as matrons. They may be made of silver fabric or brocade to good effect and they offer a change from the large dinner hat which is generally chosen for informal hotel affairs.

4 BANK BANDITS STILL AT LARGE

ROBBED BANK AT ASHER, OKLA., SHOT VIGILANTE THROUGH LUNGS

Asher, Okla., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Four bandits who robbed the Canadian Valley State bank here of $2,057 and then engaged in a gun skirmish with vigilantes shooting Bailey Browder through the lungs, were still at large early today.

Meanwhile, in Shawnee Municipal hospital, physicians fought to save the life of Browder, a druggist, who ran to the street and opened fire on the robbers as they fled to their car later abandoned northeast of here.

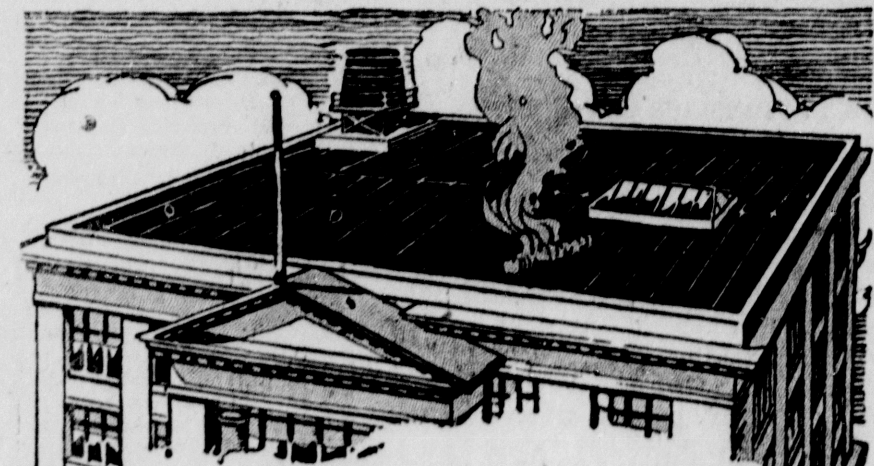

Browder was described as in a dangerous condition.

The leader of the gang, who escaped afoot northwest of here and who "shot his way out" without entering the car, was sought as the possessor of the loot.

The other three escaped after abandoning the car.

"Knot" is the nautical name of a geographical mile equal to 1 1/2 statute or land miles. The rate of speed of a ship is expressed in knots, as the log line is divided by knots into parts each one-one hundred and twentieth of a geographical mile.

A fire brand can't roll off a flat roof

BUT if that flat roof is covered with Johns-Manville Asbestos it does not need to roll off. It will simply burn out and that will be the end of the matter.

But if the roofing is inflammable that single fire brand may touch off a whole city. It is very apt to destroy the building on which it falls.

Roofs of Johns-Manville Asbestos are not only fireproof, they are everlastingly durable and exceedingly economical; for asbestos never requires painting, refinishing, or renewing of any sort.

Write, call, or telephone us for full information in regard to your roofing requirements.

ALONG THE SIGNBOARD ROUTE

STEPHEN LEACOCK, internationally known humorist who writes with delicate irony and satire, calls attention to the signboard route noticeable from every railway coach window. That same state of affairs rules in the average automobile tour. True, much of the blatant sign work which bids fair to obliterate the scenery has been removed in our state and Minnesota is thus fairly clean in this regard.

Writing in Harper's Magazine, Leacock mentions passing through the tunnels and leaving behind us the surging metropolis of New York, and we find ourselves traversing the flat marshy land of Eastern New Jersey where 100 rooms, each with a bath, can be had from $1.50 up. The scenery is not without its charm, the sunken valley of the Hackensack and the Passaic, the waving rushes and meandering streams suggest to the poetic mind, why not try grip garters?

"We are now passing through historic country. We do not need our guide book to tell us that it is through this beautiful farm district of New Jersey that Washington advanced, slowly driving the British before him. He made his way between a condensed milk board and a radio set for $238. He picked his steps with evident strategy, avoiding coats and pants for men of all sizes, for his trained eye detected an opening between chow chow pickles and malted extract of codfish.

"The scene improves as we go on. The notices of the boards are at a little distance now and we cannot read the words but the pictures still appear. We are passing through a country of bulls. This is, this must be Washington! With our faces eagerly set we draw near to the national capital.

"The speed of the train somewhat confuses and blurs our vision and mixes the imagery of the scenery together. But we infer even from our hurried view of the outskirts of the capital that if any bull wants silk hosiery that neither rips nor tears he is exactly in the right place for seeing it; and that Washington is exactly in the center of the yeast district, the canned soup area, that all the great modern medical inventions, such as Humpo, Jumbo and Anti-Wheeze, are sold there and that the place is evidently the headquarters for balloon tires, that if we know a schoolgirl we can get her all the soap we want; in short, look about us—here are rooms with bath at $1.50! Meals a la carte, suspenders, garters, ice cream in the block, radios, gramophones, elixirs of life, funeral directors open all night, real estate, bungalows, breakfast foods—

In truth, this is America indeed."

THE STRONG ARM OF LIFE INSURANCE

THE strong arm of life insurance carries many burdens. It does many things well and a writer sums it up in ten paragraphs, each carrying a punch.

Life insurance is an antidote for destitution.

Life insurance pays dollars for dimes.

It is a system devised to furnish protection against the economic loss caused by the termination of earning power.

It is a soldier that is ever at war with poverty, want and suffering but is always victorious.

It is a cannery that preserves a portion of the surplus fruits of your labor during your productive years for use in the winter of life.

It is a method by which you can support your widow and orphans as long as they live.

It is a gyroscope that maintains the financial equilibrium of individuals, firms and corporations.

It is a road to realized ambition, the embodiment of dreams come true, and the hope chest of a nation.

It is a bread-fruit tree that produces a bountiful crop, regardless of climatic conditions, business upheavals, the fatalities of pestilence, or the ravages of war.

It is a barricade that a wise and prudent man builds around the pits of poverty and want in order to keep his widow and orphans from falling into them.

LINDBERGH RANKS SEVENTH IN AIR FORCE COMMAND

CHARLES A. LINDBERGH's rank of Colonel in the Officer's Reserve Corps opens the way to some interesting and unusual possibilities, should the United States become engaged in another war, asserts an editorial in Liberty. For, as is pointed out, "under the present organization of the Army Air Corps, he is potentially the seventh ranking officer. That is extraordinary in any army; but it seems to us a peculiar fortunate circumstance for ours.

"Up to now," the editorial continues, "older men have always been at the helm of our war-making machine—not always with distinguished success. It would be a good thing to have young fellows like Lindbergh, of courage, energy, initiative, in high places in every branch of the service when war comes.

"The ablest generals have been young: Alexander was in his twenties, Caesar and Napoleon in their thirties. But Lindy, without his specially won rank, probably never would have had a chance to give his country the full benefit of his extraordinary capabilities in time of need."

FOUR GREAT PHYSICIANS

THERE are four great physicians, who if invoked, can do much to restore and maintain the health of the world. They are Fresh Air, Good Food, Pure Water and Exercise.

Before the body begins to break, if we but budget our living so that nothing is done to excess and so that these four great natural physicians can serve constantly, the chances are exceedingly great that we shall live long, happily and usefully.

LABOR DAY IN BRAINERD

LABOR DAY in Brainerd is generally a quiet day. Stores and banks are closed and a day dedicated to the glorification of labor finds half the town going to the lakes or else enjoying the opening of the State Fair.

In the old days there used to be a general celebration, speeches, parade, dance and other amusements.

Lot of Brainerd people feel quite puffed up. They caught a fleeting glimpse of Lindbergh at Little Falls and another of the Prince of Wales at Winnipeg.

Adaptation of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Fabien, good and handsome youth of France, trained for the priesthood; but meets and loves Manon, beautiful, beautiful orphan, whose worldly value, realizing her worldly value, barters her to Ravoit, rich connoisseur of women. Fabien saves her and carries her off to Paris, where they live happily together. Manon's brother steals her for Ravoit. Circumstances force her to surrender to Ravoit. Fabien, thinking her perfidious, returns to his studies. On the eve of his ordination Manon confronts him and pleads for his love.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued

"Manon, can you promise that you would never leave me again?" Fabien searched her eyes.

"Darling—I know—I swear it!" her eyes answered his.

The agitation and tumult that her nervous mind had in Fabien thrilled him with a kind of horror that made him experience the vague sense of being carried into a new existence.

That is exactly what was happening and it came about with such power that he could no longer resist the call. As Manon's fragrant nearness broke down his last spark of resistance, Fabien gathered her tenderly into his strong arms and strained her to him in a strong passionate embrace. His lips found hers and held them for a wonderful moment of complete forgetfulness.

The reunited lovers were called from themselves by the chiming bells in the great Cathedral tower.

"My dear, do you hear?" questioned Fabien happily. "Their ringing means my freedom and yours!" He gathered Manon to him again for a brief ecstatic embrace, then removed his cassock and left it on the ground—the only part of him that was to remain within the narrow confines of the cloister walls.

To be together was all they asked, and since holding Manon in his arms Fabien had not had a moment's doubt about the wisdom of again relinquishing his vows for her.

They agreed that their present and future happiness was secure beyond the reach of Fate or the interference of man; and so with one arm about Manon's slim shoulders Fabien led her out into the world.

Where? They neither knew nor cared. Just what awaited them did not matter so long as they had each other.

CHAPTER XV

Love with all its resulting pleasures is a wonderful thing, but unfortunately cannot be enjoyed for very long without enough money to insure food and shelter.

Fabien's hasty and unpremeditated departure from St. Sulpice did not leave time to think of money, and when he wanted to return for his purse Manon would not consider it. She feared complications and dreaded the thought of losing him again even for a moment. Anyway, the content of the purse would not have lasted long, for Fabien demanded nothing in the way of worldly goods while at St. Sulpice, and naturally his finances were never large. Now, however, money was as essential to their future as the food their bodies required.

Manon had salvaged enough from the odious but profitable days with the Comte De Ravoit to take care of them for some time. Of course she offered it immediately as a solution to their problem and was surprised when Fabien rebelled at the abhorrent idea.

It took only a little explaining on Fabien's part to make her understand why they could not exist on the Comte's past generosity. Manon acceded to his wishes very graciously; in fact, nothing mattered now that they were together with the past all explained and buried away. She assigned herself unreservedly to Fabien's care and instinctively knew that in some way he would provide everything her heart desired.

MEXICAN TROOPS AT AMERICAN AMPARO MINES

Washington, Sept. 2.—(UP)—Mexican troops have arrived at the American Amparo mines at Etzatlan, where 18 Americans have been reported endangered by radical labor troubles, according to reports from the mine superintendent there transmitted to the Fabien was even more sure of this than Manon. He had lost her once because he was so absorbed in dreams of love that he ignored the material. Now he planned to provide for her even more lavishly than had the Comte, so that no odious comparison would ever make Manon unhappy or cause him to fall in her estimation as a man and provider.

The only means at hand was for Fabien to draw on his father and he did it with a heavy hand because he knew that after his parent had been notified a second call for funds would be refused.

To satisfy Manon's love for pleasure it seemed important that they should reside in Paris. She found a beautiful place that she wanted, consequently Fabien took it and they established themselves in gorgeous style with utter disregard for expense; nor did they take time from love making to think where more money would come from when their dwindling supply was exhausted.

They were enjoying a dream, and money never matters in dreams; so why should they have worried? Besides, all dreams end soon enough. It is stupid to attempt control, just give yourself up completely to the temporary oblivion and make the best of the rude awakening.

The dying weeks added a new radiance to love. Manon grew so sweet in her unceasing attentions to Fabien that he felt fully rewarded for his past troubles and changed plans. Her passion for jewelry and fine clothes went hand in hand with her love for amusement and she soon discovered that Fabien gratified every whim.

Smart new friends became frequent visitors at the Des Greux household. It happened that many of the same people who witnessed the dramatic scene between Fabien and Manon at the Gambling Club, annexed themselves to the host of friends and admirers. Strangely enough, one of the most faithful from this group was Nana. It may have been because she found Manon's salon the best place in Paris to meet interesting men, but we will give her credit for a flare of real friendship and add for good measure that she no longer treasured a grudge against Fabien—instead she openly admired him and would have given her soul to hold the place in his affections that Manon occupied. She openly and secretly, when occasion permitted, angled for his attention and her efforts were so untiring that Fabien often had to make excuses to get away from her.

Manon's boudoir was lovely beyond compare. Panelled walls of soft rose colored satin matched the exquisite hangings. All of her toilet articles were of crystal and gold, a gift from Fabien that made her lavish carriages, on him for a whole hour. Abundant payment.

The bed was charming, but not more so than its occupant as the brightness from the mid-day sun filtered through the windows and shone brightly upon Manon as she sat there, banked with silken pillows, enjoying her breakfast chocolate, while Fabien, who had been up for hours, came in to watch her.

"Your hair is so soft and lovely," said Fabien, tenderly patting the mass of golden ringlets spread out on the pillows around her head. "I like you much better this way than in a formal wig. It reminds me of our first night in the attic room when I saw you asleep."

Fabien buried his face in Manon's curls and as her sweetness took possession of his senses he kissed her—many times—while she allowed his head upon her breast and bowed her head in adorable submission.

A knock at the door warned them that it was time for Manon's day to begin. Late night hours made it advisable for her to remain abed until noon and Fabien always came in to wake her and remain until the time she drew her bath.

By the time the door opened, Fabien was way out in the middle of the room talking casually with Manon as she, just as casually, finished her chocolate. It was a little game of hoax they always enjoyed. Although it concealed nothing for the simple reason that the maid was—Marie—the wise gossip loving slavey from the pension. It had been another whim of Manon's to engage her as personal maid and costume her in all the neatness of a pretty uniform. Marie arose to the occasion grandly and watched over her adored mistress as jealously as a devoted watch dog. The new surroundings also gave her hungry soul a feast and she found the large servants' hall an amazing place for scandal.

"Messieurs the Abbe Martineau and the Duke D'Amfort—Monsieur Nana—and the hairdressers are waiting to see Madam." Marie made her announcement very stiffly, while now and then she cast a grim look at Fabien. Now she did not like him because she was forced to change her opinion about his appearance and his wealth.

ALONG THE SIGNBOARD ROUTE

STEPHEN LEACOCK, internationally known humorist who writes with delicate irony and satire, calls attention to the signboard route noticeable from every railway coach window. That same state of affairs rules in the average automobile tour. True, much of the blatant sign work which bids fair to obliterate the scenery has been removed in our state and Minnesota is thus fairly clean in this regard.

Writing in Harper's Magazine, Leacock mentions passing through the tunnels and leaving behind us the surging metropolis of New York, and we find ourselves traversing the flat marshy land of Eastern New Jersey where 100 rooms, each with a bath, can be had from $1.50 up. The scenery is not without its charm, the sunken valley of the Hackensack and the Passaic, the waving rushes and meandering streams suggest to the poetic mind, why not try grip garters?

"We are now passing through historic country. We do not need our guide book to tell us that it is through this beautiful farm district of New Jersey that Washington advanced, slowly driving the British before him. He made his way between a condensed milk board and a radio set for $238. He picked his steps with evident strategy, avoiding coats and pants for men of all sizes, for his trained eye detected an opening between chow chow pickles and malted extract of codfish.

"The scene improves as we go on. The notices of the boards are at a little distance now and we cannot read the words but the pictures still appear. We are passing through a country of bulls. This is, this must be Washington! With our faces eagerly set we draw near to the national capital.

"The speed of the train somewhat confuses and blurs our vision and mixes the imagery of the scenery together. But we infer even from our hurried view of the outskirts of the capital that if any bull wants silk hosiery that neither rips nor tears he is exactly in the right place for seeing it; and that Washington is exactly in the center of the yeast district, the canned soup area, that all the great modern medical inventions, such as Humpo, Jumpo and Anti-Whzeeze, are sold there and that the place is evidently the headquarters for balloon tires, that if we know a schoolgirl we can get her all the soap we want; in short, look about us—here are rooms with bath at $1.50! Meals a la carte, suspenders, garters, ice cream in the block, radios, gramophones, elixirs of life, funeral directors open all night, real estate, bungalows, breakfast foods—

In truth, this is America indeed."

THE STRONG ARM OF LIFE INSURANCE

THE strong arm of life insurance carries many burdens. It does many things well and a writer sums it up in ten paragraphs, each carrying a punch.

Life insurance is an antidote for destitution.

Life insurance pays dollars for dimes.

It is a system devised to furnish protection against the economic loss caused by the termination of earning power.

It is a soldier that is ever at war with poverty, want and suffering but is always victorious.

It is a cannery that preserves a portion of the surplus fruits of your labor during your productive years for use in the winter of life.

It is a method by which you can support your widow and orphans as long as they live.

It is a gyroscope that maintains the financial equilibrium of individuals, firms and corporations.

It is a road to realized ambition, the embodiment of dreams come true, and the hope chest of a nation.

It is a bread-fruit tree that produces a bountiful crop, regardless of climatic conditions, business upheavals, the fatalities of pestilence, or the ravages of war.

It is a barricade that a wise and prudent man builds around the pits of poverty and want in order to keep his widow and orphans from falling into them.

LINDBERGH RANKS SEVENTH IN AIR FORCE COMMAND

CHARLES A. LINDBERGH's rank of Colonel in the Officer's Reserve Corps opens the way to some interesting and unusual possibilities, should the United States become engaged in another war, asserts an editorial in Liberty. For, as is pointed out, "under the present organization of the Army Air Corps, he is potentially the seventh ranking officer. That is extraordinary in any army; but it seems to us a peculiar fortunate circumstance for ours.

"Up to now," the editorial continues, "older men have always been at the helm of our war-making machine—not always with distinguished success. It would be a good thing to have young fellows like Lindbergh, of courage, energy, initiative, in high places in every branch of the service when war comes.

"The ablest generals have been young: Alexander was in his twenties, Caesar and Napoleon in their thirties. But Lindy, without his specially won rank, probably never would have had a chance to give his country the full benefit of his extraordinary capabilities in time of need."

FOUR GREAT PHYSICIANS

THERE are four great physicians, who if invoked, can do much to restore and maintain the health of the world. They are Fresh Air, Good Food, Pure Water and Exercise.

Before the body begins to break, if we but budget our living so that nothing is done to excess and so that these four great natural physicians can serve constantly, the chances are exceedingly great that we shall live long, happily and usefully.

LABOR DAY IN BRAINERD

LABOR DAY in Brainerd is generally a quiet day. Stores and banks are closed and a day dedicated to the glorification of labor finds half the town going to the lakes or else enjoying the opening of the State Fair.

In the old days there used to be a general celebration, speeches, parade, dance and other amusements.

Lot of Brainerd people feel quite puffed up. They caught a fleeting glimpse of Lindbergh at Little Falls and another of the Prince of Wales at Winnipeg.

When a Man Loves

By ALLIE LOWE MILES

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
John Barrymore in "WHEN A MAN LOVES" is a Warner Bros. Picture
adaptation of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Fabien, good and handsome youth of France, trains for the priesthood; but meets and loves Manon Lescaut, beautiful orphan, whose rascally brother, realizing her worldly value, barters her to Rivoir, rich connoisseur of women. Fabien saves her and carries her off to Paris, where they live happily together. Manon's brother steals her for Rivoir. Circumstances force her to surrender to Rivoir. Fabien, thinking her perfidious, returns to his studies. On the eve of his ordination Manon confronts him and pleads for his love.

"Manon, can you promise that you would never leave me again?" Fabien searched her eyes.

"Darling—I know—I swear it!" her eyes answered his.

The agitation and tumult that her nearness kindled in Fabien chilled him with a kind of horror that made him experience the vague sense of being carried into a new existence.

That is exactly what was happening and it came about with such power that he could no longer resist the call. As Manon's fragrant hair broke down his last spark of resistance, Fabien gathered her hungrily into his starved arms and strained her to him in a strong passionate embrace. His lips found hers and held them for a wonderful moment of complete forgetfulness.

The reunited lovers were called from themselves by the chiming bells in the great Cathedral tower. "My dear, do you hear?" questioned Fabien happily. "The ringing means my freedom and yours!" He gathered Manon to him again for a brief ecstatic embrace, then removed his cassock and left it on the ground—the only part of him that was to remain within the narrow confines of the cloister walls.

To be together was all they asked, and since holding Manon in his arms Fabien had not had a moment's doubt about the wisdom of again relinquishing his vows for her.

With one arm about Manon's shoulders, Fabien led her out into the world.

They agreed that their present and future happiness was secure beyond the reach of Fate or the interference of man; and so with one arm about Manon's slim shoulders Fabien led her out into the world.

Where? They neither knew nor cared. Just what awaited them did not matter so long as they had each other.

CHAPTER XV

Love with all its resulting pleasures is a wonderful thing, but unfortunately cannot be enjoyed for very long without enough money to insure food and shelter.

Fabien's hasty and unprepared departure from St. Sulpice did not leave time to think of money, and when he wanted to return for his purse Manon would not consider it. She feared complications and dreaded the thought of losing him again even for a moment. Anyway, the content of the purse would not have lasted long for Fabien demanded nothing in the way of worldly goods while at St. Sulpice, and naturally his finances were never large. Now, however, money was as essential to their future as the food their bodies required.

Manon had salvaged enough from the odious but profitable days with the Comte De Rivoir to take care of them for some time. Of course she offered it immediately as a solution to their problem and was surprised when Fabien rebelled at the abhorrent idea.

It took only a little explaining on Fabien's part to make her understand why they could not exist on the Comte's past generosity. Manon acceded to his wishes very graciously. In fact, nothing mattered now that they were together with the past all explained and buried away. She assigned herself unreservedly to Fabien's care and instinctively knew that in some way he would provide everything her heart desired.

Fabien was even more sure of this than Manon. He had lost her once because he was so absorbed in dreams of love that he ignored the material. Now he planned to provide for her even more lavishly than had the Comte, so that no odious comparison would ever make Manon unhappy or cause him to fall in her estimation as a man and provider.

The only means at hand was for Fabien to draw on his father and he did it with a heavy hand because he knew that after his parent had been notified a second call for funds would be refused.

To satisfy Manon's love for pleasure it seemed important that they should reside in Paris. She found a beautiful place that she wanted, consequently Fabien took it and they established themselves in gorgeous style with utter disregard for expense; nor did they take time from love making to think where more money would come from when their dwindling supply was exhausted.

They were enjoying a dream, and money never matters in a dream, so why should they have worried? Besides, all dreams end soon enough. It is stupid to attempt control, just give yourself up completely to the temporary oblivion and make the best of the rude awakening.

The flying weeks added a new radiance to love. Manon grew so sweet in her unceasing attentions to Fabien that he felt fully rewarded for his past troubles and changed plans. Her passion for jewelry and beautiful gowns went hand in hand with her love for amusement and she soon discovered that Fabien gratified every whim.

Smart new friends became frequent visitors at the Des Greux household. It happened that many of the same people who witnessed the dramatic scene between Fabien and Manon at the Gambling Club, annexed themselves to the host of friends and admirers. Strangely enough, one of the most faithful from this group was Nana. It may have been because she found Manon's salon the best place in Paris to meet interesting men, but we will give her credit for a flare of real friendship and add for good measure that she no longer treasured a grudge against Fabien—instead she openly admired him and would have given her soul to hold the place in his affections that Manon occupied. She openly and secretly, when occasion permitted, angled for his attention and her efforts were so untiring that Fabien often had to make excuses to get away from her.

Manon's boudoir was lovely beyond compare. Panelled walls of soft rose colored satin matched the exquisite hangings. All of her toilet articles were of crystal and gold, a gift from Fabien that made her lavish carresses on him for a whole hour. Abundant payment.

The bed was charming, but not more so than its occupant as the brightness from the mid-day sun filtered through the windows and shone brightly upon Manon as she sat there, basking with silken pillows, enjoying her breakfast chocolate, while Fabien, who had been up for hours, came in to watch her.

"Your hair is so soft and lovely," said Fabien, tenderly patting the mass of golden ringlets spread out on the pillows around her head. "I like you much better this way than in a formal wig. It reminds me of our first night in the attic room when I saw you asleep."

Fabien buried his face in Manon's curls and as her sweetness took possession of his senses he kissed her—many times—while she pillowed her head upon her breast and bowed her head in adorable submission.

A knock at the door warned them that it was time for Manon's day to begin. Late night hours made it advisable for her to remain abed until noon and Fabien always came in to wake her and remain until the maid arrived to draw her bath.

By the time the door opened, Fabien was way out in the middle of the room talking casually with Manon as she, just as casually, finished her chocolate. It was a little game of hoax they always enjoyed. Although it concealed nothing for the simple reason that the maid was—Marie—the wise gossip loving slave from the pension. It had been another whim of Manon's to engage her as personal maid and costume her in all the neatness of a pretty uniform. Marie arose to the occasion grandly and watched over her adored mistress as jealous as a devoted mistress dog. The new surroundings also gave her hungry soul a feast and she found the large servants' hall an amazing place for scandal.

"Messieurs the Abbe Martineau and the Duke D'Eaufort—Mademoiselle Nana—and the hairdressers are waiting to see Madam." Marie made her announcement very stiffly, while now and then she cast a look at Fabien. Now she did not like him because she was forced to change her opinion about his appearance and his wealth.

TUNNEY STARTS LIGHT WORKOUTS TODAY

TUNNEY AT CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB

"MOST MARVELOUS TRAINING SITE I'VE EVER SEEN," SAID CHAMPION

DEMPSEY SAYS HE WILL MAKE MATCH WITH TUNNEY A REAL FIGHT

By CLARK B. KELSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, today started light workouts for his "boxing match" with Jack Dempsey on September 22, while some 85 miles away Dempsey prepared for his "fight" with Tunney.

Tunney, who arrived in a blast of pomp and ceremony yesterday, announced to Chicago that it was not "fighting" but "boxing" he had chosen as a profession. Dempsey replied by saying he would make his match with Tunney a real "fight."

Safely ensconced in his country club training camp, Tunney decided he would rest up from his train journey before donning the boxing gloves for workouts.

"Probably not until Monday," he said today, when asked when he would start his sparring again.

Tunney has been given a huge room on the second floor of Cedar Crest Country club for his living quarters. The club itself is perched on a hill between two lakes. Half a mile away is Tunney's training ground, with ring, punching bags and other paraphernalia.

"It certainly is a peach," Tunney said, after viewing the camp. "It's the most marvelous training site I've ever seen."

About 85 miles south of Tunney's camp, Dempsey was planning to rest over the week-end. The ex-champion-challenger has come to a point in his conditioning where he fears he may over-train if he exerts himself too much.

PIRATES GAIN FULL GAME LEAD IN LEAGUE

BEAT ST. LOUIS 5 TO 3, CINCINNATI SHUTS OUT THE CUBS, 5 TO 0

ALEXANDER ALLOWED THE PIRATES 15 HITS IN STRENUOUS GAME

(By United Press)
The Pirates gained a full game lead on the National League lead when they beat St. Louis 5 to 3 while Cincinnati shut out the Cubs, 5 to 0.

The Cards fought hard in the ninth inning but could only get two of the four runs needed to tie the score. Alexander allowed the Pirates 15 hits. Rabbit Maraville, veteran major leaguer purchased from Rochester, was in the Cards line-up at shortstop.

May limited the Cubs to three hits and they didn't have a chance. The score would have been much different, however, if the Cubs' infield hadn't failed completely in the 4th inning, allowing the Reds to score four of their runs. Jones pitched effectively for Chicago, allowing seven hits in seven innings.

The Braves squeezed single runs in three innings to win a tight game from Brooklyn, 3 to 2. R. Smith, Boston, and McWeeny, Brooklyn, pitched.

Lou Gehrig hit two home runs—his 42nd and 43rd—as part of the Yankee activity in overwhelming the Athletics, 12 to 2. The Yankees made 20 hits off Walberg and Gray. Babe Ruth got his 44th home run.

Stoner, Detroit, and Gaston, St. Louis, allowed six hits each but the Browns made better use of theirs and beat the Tigers, 3 to 2, scoring two runs in the last half of the ninth to tie and win.

Although the White Sox used 19 players in an effort to beat the Indians, they were defeated 7 to 6. Johnny Mostil, disabled outfielder, played for the first time this season when he ran for Grout after the latter's hit, stole second and scored a run.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Toledo and Milwaukee divided a double-header, Toledo taking the first 10 to 9 and Milwaukee the second 11 to 2 in seven innings. Jess Barnes, former National Leaguer, was routed by the Brewers in the opener but rallied to couple the lead for the Hens. In the second game, three Brewer pitchers were knocked out and Jounard held good for the Hens.

St. Paul, Minn.—The Twin Cities had a ball game all their own here in the opening of the Inter-city series and St. Paul won over Minneapolis, 9 to 4. Hubbell weakened in the fourth for five runs which gave the Saints the lead.

BASEBALL'S BIG FIVE

Lou Gehrig went on a rampage yesterday, crashing out his forty-second and forty-third home runs and two singles out of five times up.

Babe Ruth stayed one up on Gehrig by hitting his forty-fourth home run out of three attempts.

Cobb made a single out of three times at bat.
Hornsby and Speaker were idle.

WEATHER WAS TOO GREAT A HANDICAP

13-YEAR-OLD BERNICE AND PHYLLIS ZITENFELD ABANDON ATTEMPT

JANE DARWIN, ADULT SWIMMER TAKEN OUT AFTER 7-HOUR SWIM

Boulogne, France, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The 13-year-old Zitenfeld twins, Bernice and Phyllis, of New York, failed today to swim the English Channel.

They started at 11:42 P. M. yesterday in spite of a stiff northeast breeze and general bad weather reports. A large crowd followed in boats.

Eight minutes later, Mrs. Marriott, known as Jane Darwin, entered the channel and followed the twins.

By 2 A. M. the twins were two and a half miles northwest of Gris Nez and their position was considered good to obtain favorable tides to aid them to reach the English shore.

Mrs. Marriott was half a mile behind them.

At 3 A. M. the swimmers entered a heavy fog over the channel, cutting them off from view of the crowds on shore.

An hour later the twins abandoned their attempt, and at 7 A. M. arrived at Boulogne.

Weather conditions had been too great a handicap.

After seven hours in the water, during which time she had covered about six miles, Mrs. Marriott was taken out of the water.

She was taken in a launch to Dover where she told newspapermen that the northerly wind when she began the swim changed to easterly. The channel was very choppy, she said.

Cape Gris Nez, Sept. 3.—Accident and not exhaustion compelled the Zitenfeld twins of New York to abandon their attempt to swim the English channel. It was revealed today when they returned here.

Bernice and Phyllis, 13 years old, entered the water at 11:42 P. M. yesterday. After slightly more than four hours in the water, one of the twins removed her glasses which had become so greasy that she could not see her companion.

While she attempted to replace the glasses, an oar from the accompanying rowboat struck the swimmer, thereby disqualifying her.

The other twin wanted to continue but Mrs. Zitenfeld and the twins' trainer, Jabez Wolfe, decided the weather had become too unfavorable anyway, and the swim was abandoned.

"When the weather is good," said Mrs. Zitenfeld today, "the twins will try again. They were as strong and gay when they left the water as when they entered."

Grove's Dictionary of Musicians makes the following comment on a musical instrument called the carina: "A family of small terra cotta instruments, in character somewhat resembling the flagelets, made of various sizes and introduced into this country by German or Tyrolean musicians. TUNNEY STARTS LIGHT WORKOUTS TODAY

"MOST MARVELOUS TRAINING SITE I'VE EVER SEEN," SAID CHAMPION

DEMPSEY SAYS HE WILL MAKE MATCH WITH TUNNEY A REAL FIGHT

By CLARK B. KELSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, today started light workouts for his "boxing match" with Jack Dempsey on September 22, while some 85 miles away Dempsey prepared for his "fight" with Tunney.

Tunney, who arrived in a blast of pomp and ceremony yesterday, announced to Chicago that it was not "fighting" but "boxing" he had chosen as a profession. Dempsey replied by saying he would make his match with Tunney a real "fight."

Safely ensconced in his country club training camp, Tunney decided he would rest up from his train journey before donning the boxing gloves for workouts.

"Probably not until Monday," he said today, when asked when he would start his sparring again.

Tunney has been given a huge room on the second floor of Cedar Crest Country club for his living quarters. The club itself is perched on a hill between two lakes. Half a mile away is Tunney's training ground, with ring, punching bags and other paraphernalia.

"It certainly is a peach," Tunney said, after viewing the camp. "It's the most marvelous training site I've ever seen."

About 85 miles south of Tunney's camp, Dempsey was planning to rest over the week-end. The ex-champion-challenger has come to a point in his conditioning where he fears he may over-train if he exerts himself too much.

TEEN AGE TWINS FAIL IN CHANNEL SWIM

TUNNEY IS PRONOUNCED TO RHYME WITH 'FUNNY'

Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Gene Tunney has been heavyweight boxing champion nearly a year, but there is still disagreement on how to pronounce his name.

Gene himself settles it in reply to a query from the Pathfinder Publishing company here. His letter says:

"The name 'Tunney' is pronounced to rhyme with 'funny.' In other words, the 'u' is short, as in 'sun'."

PIRATES GAIN FULL GAME LEAD IN LEAGUE

BEAT ST. LOUIS 5 TO 3, CINCINNATI SHUTS OUT THE CUBS, 5 TO 0

ALEXANDER ALLOWED THE PIRATES 15 HITS IN STRENUOUS GAME

(By United Press)

The Pirates gained a full game lead on the National League today when they beat St. Louis 5 to 3 while Cincinnati shut out the Cubs, 5 to 0.

The Cards fought hard in the ninth inning but could only get two of the four runs needed to tie the score. Alexander allowed the Pirates 15 hits. Rabbit Maravilla, veteran major leaguer purchased from Rochester, was in the Cards line-up at shortstop.

May limited the Cubs to three hits and they didn't have a chance. The score would have been much different, however, if the Cubs' infield hadn't failed completely in the 4th inning, allowing the Reds to score four of their runs. Jones pitched effectively for Chicago, allowing seven hits in seven innings.

The Braves squeezed single runs in three innings to win a tight game from Brooklyn, 3 to 2. R. Smith, Boston, and McWeeny, Brooklyn, pitched.

Lou Gehrig hit two home runs—his 42nd and 43rd—as part of the Yankee activity in overwhelming the Athletics, 12 to 2. The Yankees made 20 hits off Walberg and Gray. Babe Ruth got his 44th home run.

Stoner, Detroit, and Gaston, St. Louis, allowed six hits each but the Browns made better use of their arms and beat the Tigers, 3 to 2, scoring two runs in the last half of the ninth to tie and win.

Although the White Sox used 19 players in an effort to beat the Indians, they were defeated 7 to 6. Johnny Mostil, disabled outfielder, played for the first time this season when he ran for Grouse after the latter's hit, stole second and scored a run.

Milwaukee, Wis., < Toledo and Milwaukee divided a double-header, Toledo taking the first 10 to 9 and Milwaukee the second 11 to 2 in seven innings. Jess Barnes, former National Leaguer, was routed by the Brewers in the opener but rallied to couple the lead for the Hens.

In the second game, three Brewer pitchers were knocked out and Jourard held good for the Hens.

St. Paul, Minn.—The Twin Cities had a ball game all their own here in the opening of the Inter-city series and St. Paul won over Minneapolis, 9 to 4. Hubbell weakened in the fourth for five runs which gave the Saints the lead.

WEATHER WAS TOO GREAT A HANDICAP

13-YEAR-OLD BERNICE AND PHYLLIS ZITENFELD ABANDON ATTEMPT

JANE DARWIN, ADULT SWIMMER TAKEN OUT AFTER 7-HOUR SWIM

Boulogne, France, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The 13-year-old Zitenfeld twins, Bernice and Phyllis, of New York failed today to swim the English Channel.

They started at 11:42 P. M. yesterday in spite of a stiff northeast breeze and general bad weather reports. A large crowd followed in boats.

Eight minutes later, Mrs. Marriott, known as Jane Darwin, entered the channel and followed the twins.

By 2 A. M. the twins were two and a half miles northwest of Griz Nez and their position was considered good to obtain favorable tides to aid them to reach the English shore.

Mrs. Marriott was half a mile behind them.

At 3 A. M. the swimmers entered a heavy fog over the channel, cutting them off from view of the crowds on shore.

An hour later the twins abandoned their attempt, and at 7 A. M. arrived at Boulogne.

Weather conditions had been too great a handicap.

After seven hours in the water, during which time she had covered about six miles, Mrs. Marriott was taken out of the water.

She was taken in a launch to Dover where she told newspapermen that the northerly wind when she began the swim changed to easterly. The channel was very choppy, she said.

Cape Gris Nez, Sept. 3.—Accident and not exhaustion compelled the Zitenfeld twins of New York to abandon their attempt to swim the English channel. It was revealed today when they returned here.

Bernice and Phyllis, 13 years old, entered the water at 11:42 P. M. yesterday. After slightly more than four hours in the water, one of the twins removed her glasses which had become so greasy that she could not see her companion.

While she attempted to replace the glasses, an oar from the accompanying rowboat struck the swimmer, thereby disqualifying her.

The other twin wanted to continue but Mrs. Zitenfeld and the twins' trainer, Jabez Wolfe, decided the weather had become too unfavorable anyway, and the swim was abandoned.

"When the weather is good," said Mrs. Zitenfeld today, "the twins will try again. They were as strong and gay when they left the water as when they entered."

Old Musical Instrument

Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians makes the following comment on a musical instrument called the organ: "A family of small terra cotta instruments, in character somewhat resembling the flageolets, made of various sizes and introduced into this country by German or Tyrolean musicians. They are of no musical significance. They have a hollow, sweet sound, similar to that of a stopped organ pipe."

NEW OXYGEN TANK FOR ALTITUDE USE

Lieutenant Champion Seeks to Perfect Device.

Washington.—Altitude record making is only part of the task undertaken by Lieut. Carleton C. Champion, Jr., sky-climbing naval pilot, who successfully brought down his plane the other day from an altitude which he placed at 47,000 feet or better, with the motor flying apart and shooting flames.

He is trying to perfect the oxygen tank which makes it possible for aviators to breathe and remain conscious in the extremely rarefied atmosphere six or seven miles above the earth.

When the oxygen tube was knocked out of his mouth on his recent flight, apparently by a flying part of his engine, he lost consciousness, but regained his faculties quickly enough to fight valiantly against the flames from his motor and to strive to save the precious barographs which had made a record of his ascent.

One was demolished and the other damaged beyond usefulness, he fears, by the bursting motor, but he managed what the Navy department described as an "exceptionally fine" landing.

Champion, born September 20, 1896, has been flying only five years, but he has put in more than 1,000 hours in the air in all types of craft.

Graduating at the Naval Academy in 1919, he served aboard the U. S. S. Michigan and Olympic in the Mediterranean, and then with the destroyer squadrons and the scouting fleet before taking the aviation course at Pensacola.

Celebrated Restaurant

in Berlin Closes Doors
Berlin.—Borchardt, Berlin's celebrated caterer, has gone into bankruptcy. After 70 years of fame as the restaurant for epicures and as catering to every German court, the establishment, with its fancy grocery, has fallen a victim to general impoverishment.

Since a new clientele among the newly rich was not forthcoming, because of the increasing demand since the war for terpsichorean and musical pleasures, this mecca for so many noted gourmets has at last been forced to close its doors. Kangaroo tails, Indian swallow's nests, sharks' fins, live trout from the Russian Neva, the regular stock in trade of Borchardt's, will be things of the past.

The former crown prince and a number of former ruling princes, as well as many distinguished foreign visitors, were always to be found at Borchardt's. One of the best customers before the war was Czar Nicholas II of Russia. Another customer was the Turkish sultan. King Edward VII of England never failed to eat at Borchardt's when sojourning in Berlin.

Giant Skeletons Are

Uncovered in Florida
Tampa, Fla.—Giant Indians who roamed Florida swamps 500 years ago or more, living on shell foods which they cracked with their teeth, is a picture unfolded by archeologists who have delved into a burial ground on a gulf island near here.

The skeletons were discovered on a small section of land where a lone fisherman has lived for years. Scientists estimated the bones are at least 500 years old and are remains of a tribe known as the Caribs, natives of the West Indies. They are believed to have inhabited the state and adjacent islands before the arrival of Spaniards in Florida.

The skulls, larger than those of current history, battered and crushed, indicated tribal battles. The jaw and teeth are unusually large. Likewise are the bones, indicating the Indians of past ages were veritable giants in comparison with those of today.

Mounds similar to the one in which the bones were unearthed are common in the state.

The bones have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution for further examination.

Use Newspapers to

Buy Eggs in Congo

Rapid City, S. D.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hill, after a visit here with relatives, have returned to the diamond mines in the Belgian Congo. They have lived there three years and during that period were readers of many American publications.
"Newspapers in the Congo are a great source of pleasure and necessity," Mrs. Hill reports. "One cannot buy fresh eggs with money from the natives. Money means nothing to them. They are traders in the old sense and will barter only in kind. Our newspapers are real bargains. For instance, two days after their arrival the natives get them in return for fresh eggs. That is the only way we can get eggs from the natives."

GREAT FUTURE IN SIGHT FOR TEXAS

More than one-fourth of the cotton raised in the United States comes from Texas; and with the coming of the electrically-driven cotton mill, it is freely predicted that Texas will one day lead the world in textile manufactures. Industry, however, is not doing away with the ranches. Sheep-raising, in fact, mainly due to the new industrial advantages, has increased 50 per cent in the past ten years.

Some idea of the new prosperity in Texas may be gathered from the statement that $23,000,000 was spent in the state last year in the construction of new hotels. But it is not in mere money that the new Texas can be measured. The change can best be expressed in terms of motion. Texas is being electrified. Every Texan is experiencing new power. Sons of cotton farmers are becoming textile engineers, and sheep-herders are becoming experts in the woolen industry. Texas is on the way. It is going somewhere and having a grand time as it goes. It is the cowboy spirit expressing itself in oil and electricity and a new order of human life.—Forbes Magazine.

TRAINING OF YOUTH MATTER OF CUSTOM

There is a great difference between English children and American children, chiefly due to home training, points out Carolyn Wells in an article in Liberty. "English children are not at all like American children," she says. "There is far more difference between the youngsters of the two countries than between the grown-ups. Not in education, but in mental attitudes."

"The English child knows things the American kid never dreams of," the writer explains, "and, contrarily, our children have wisdom that the English children never attain."

"This is probably due to the fact that the child of an English household is made one of the family when there are no guests, but is promptly relegated to the nursery when company arrives; while the American child is more in evidence with strangers present than without."

Marigolds

Marigolds are old-fashioned flowers, but none the less satisfactory in small gardens. They are exceedingly easy to grow and begin to flower in a few weeks from the time the seed is planted. Moreover, they will thrive in rather poor soil, having a tendency to make heavy foliage but to throw few flowers when the ground is rich. The odor of the marigold is not very pleasing. It is true, and they are not to be recommended for house decorations. As bedding plants, however, they are extremely useful.

Bottle's Long Voyage

A bottle thrown into a creek in southern Illinois eight years ago has been found on the coast of the Philippine Islands. The bottle contained the name of Miss Leona Smith with her address, and was tossed into the creek at Fania, Ill. She has received word from Maurice Evans, a soldier in the Pacific islands, that he picked up the bottle on the seashore there December 29, 1926. The air line between the two places is 8,000 miles.

TWO KANSU QUAKE MAKE NEW RECORD

China Hard Hit Twice in Seven Years.

Washington.—The earthquake of May 22 in the Kansu province of China happening so soon after that of 1920 in the same region sets a new record. Never before in the knowledge of Commander N. H. Heck, in charge of the United States coast and geodetic survey's earthquake investigations, have two such severe shocks in the same region occurred so close together. It was Commander Heck and his associates, using data gathered from seismograph observatories by Science Service, who located the position of the quake long before reports from the devastated area reached civilization.

Half Million Deaths in 1920.
In the quake of 1920, an estimated total of half a million people were killed, but according to reports from the region the casualties of the May earthquake numbered about 100,000. The 1920 quake was a little nearer to Peking, but other reasons are probably responsible for the lower loss of life in this latest one.

The Kansu province has been described as the "Wild West of China." Like our own wild west in the early days, it is a very unsettled region, and there have been frequent uprisings among the people of the region, who are largely Mohammedans. The last great uprising was in 1895, and since then the people have abandoned the cities in great numbers. Kwantung, which is one of the cities reported as being destroyed, was described a few years ago by travelers, according to the National Geographic society, as being nearly deserted and in ruins. Had the cities been as heavily populated as in past years, the loss of life would have been far greater, as the earthquake was one of the most severe on record.

Most Severe in Mountains.
It was across the Nanshan mountains, which lie near Tibet, that the May earthquake seems to have been most severe. A little distance to the north of the devastated region runs the famous Great Wall, which ends about 200 miles to the west of it. Practically through the region there ran in the past one of the great high roads into China. In recent times a railroad along the same route has been proposed. The great earthquakes do not necessarily mean that such a project is unsafe, however.

Though the country contains geological evidence of earthquakes in the past, until 1920 none had occurred within historic times. Perhaps the shakes in 1920 and 1927 have relieved the strain of the region, and no more will occur for centuries.

Find Out Why Bathtub Fills Up Too Slowly

Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin can tell you why your bathtub fills up slowly, if it does.

A bulletin soon to come from the university press is intended to aid hydraulic engineers in designing water piping systems which require a minimum of pumping power. The bulletin tells of experiments in loss of "head" in water passing through given sizes of pipe, bent and jointed at certain angles.

Prof. C. L. Corp and H. T. Hartwell of the hydraulic engineering departments of the university are co-authors of the booklet. The tests were conducted over a period of seven years. The pipe sizes vary from one to eight inches in diameter and the water speeds from two to twenty feet a second.

Chilled Postage Stamps Cool Florida Tongues

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Chilled postage stamps gave St. Petersburg tourists a surprise when the stamps were icked before being mailed to letters and postcards. For St. Petersburg's stamps are now served right out of cold storage.

Work has been completed on a cold-storage room in the new parcel post station, which is an adjunct to the city's famous outdoor postoffice. The temperature will be maintained between 36 and 42 degrees, making one of the coolest spots in Florida.

The stamps are being kept in the room to prevent the mucilage from becoming hot and "sticky."

BIRD'S ROOFS

with Bird's Twin Shingles

You have probably delayed repairing that old worn-out, weather-beaten roof because you just didn't want to go through the trouble of ripping off the old shingles. You know that it would be a dirty, messy job, littering up your lawns and garden plots with splinters, nails and broken shingles.

Here's good news! You can cover your home without going through all that unnecessary work. Save the time and money you would spend tearing up the old shingles. Lay Bird's Twins or Double Twins right over your present worn-out roof!

Bird's Twin Shingles, laid over your old shingles, will make a durable, weather-proof and waterproof double roof for your home that will protect you from rain, snow, and from flying sparks.

Bird's Twin Shingles are made by Bird & Son, Inc. (Est. 1795), manufacturers of Bird's Shingle Design Roofing, Art-Craft Roofing, Paroid Roofing, Neponset Black Building Paper, Bird's Insulating Blanket and Neponset Board. There's a Bird product for every sort of building!

NEW OXYGEN TANK FOR ALTITUDE USE
Lieutenant Champion Seeks to Perfect Device.

Washington.—Altitude record making is only part of the task undertaken by Lieut. Carleton C. Champion, Jr., sky-climbing naval pilot, who successfully brought down his plane the other day from an altitude which he placed at 47,000 feet or better, with the motor flying apart and shooting flames.

He is trying to perfect the oxygen tank which makes it possible for aviators to breathe and remain conscious in the extremely rarefied atmosphere six or seven miles above the earth.

When the oxygen tube was knocked out of his mouth on his recent flight, apparently by a flying part of his engine, he lost consciousness, but regained his faculties quickly enough to fight valiantly against the flames from his motor and to strive to save the precious barographs which had made a record of his ascent.

One was demolished and the other damaged beyond usefulness, he fears, by the bursting motor, but he managed what the Navy department described as an "exceptionally fine" landing.

Champion, born September 20, 1896, has been flying only five years, but he has put in more than 1,000 hours in the air in all types of craft.

Graduating at the Naval academy in 1919, he served aboard the U. S. S. Michigan and Olympic in the Mediterranean, and then with the destroyer squadrons and the scouting fleet before taking the aviation course at Pensacola.

Tuberculosis Spreads to Millions in Russia

Leningrad.—Malaria, tuberculosis and trachoma are ravishing Soviet Russia, it is stated by Dr. W. Horsley Gantt, a young physician of Charlottesville, Pa., who has just completed a two-volume work on health and sanitary conditions in Russia. Doctor Gantt says there are more than 4,000,000 cases of malaria within the Soviet union, which is four times the number before the war. The number of persons affected with tuberculosis runs into the millions, and the disease is steadily increasing. More than half a million Russians are suffering from trachoma, Doctor Gantt finds, while in the United States there are only 1,000 cases.

BRAINERD WOMEN AT W. C. T. U. MEET

Mrs. Helen Grondin, Mrs. E. C. Storm, Mrs. F. H. Jordan in Attendance

LATTER GIVES HER REPORT

State to be Redistricted to Correspond With Congressional Districts

(By Mrs. F. H. Jordan)
The 50th state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in Minneapolis, Wednesday, August 24. Three delegates from Brainerd Union, Mrs. Helen Grondin, Mrs. E. C. Storm and Mrs. F. H. Jordan attended. The sessions were devoted to business as there was only one day for it all.

The plan for redistricting the state to correspond with the congressional districts was adopted. This gives all the women in a district the advantage of uniting in electing one good candidate for office instead of being divided. Often an unworthy candidate is elected by good people neglecting to vote for a good man.

It was decided to establish a state headquarters office in St. Paul and a plan was adopted to finance it. A request for members who had belonged to the Union for the whole 50 years showed three present.

The new Union at Motley has doubled its membership the past year.

Dorothy Opsahl and Ruth Fallquist won state prizes in the essay contest.

This meeting was adjourned.

The 53rd National Convention of the W. C. T. U. met Thursday, August 25th in the First Baptist church in Minneapolis.

Delegates were present from every state, Porto Rico, and Hawaii, also visitors from Japan, India, Iceland, New Zealand and England. The large church was filled for every meeting and crowded for many of them.

The speakers were famous national people as: Gov. Christianson, Andrew Volstead, Mrs. Ella A. Boole, National President of the W. C. T. U., U. S. Senator Art Robinson of Indiana, Mary Harris Arthur of Georgia Director of the Evangelical Department of the W. C. T. U. and many prominent educators.

The need of the work for and with young people was emphasized for they are the hope of America's future and all are glad today to know there are many children living in the United States who have never seen a saloon or a drunken man.

Edgar Cutter, manager of the middle-western division of the Associated Press, stressed the need for W. C. T. U. women to give the news of their organization to their communities through the newspapers, saying that the editors are always willing to cooperate in giving the public clean news.

Senator Robinson said the American people will never permit Uncle Sam to go into the liquor business. Every senate is drier than the one preceding it. Officers who are friendly to prohibition are needed to enforce the laws.

Mrs. M. Munns, of Illinois, National Treasurer, said if the ways should secure the Union financial records, they would marvel that an organization could do so mighty a work on so little money. It could not be done by their kind, for the liquor interests never heard of such self-sacrifice, such devotion, such persistence under great difficulties, as in this sacred cause of the W. C. T. U.

The National W. C. T. U. gave $8,568.14 to flood and tornado sufferers during the year, also $3,000 to the Near East Relief.

Mrs. Boole gave a very interesting address reviewing the work of the past years and comparing it with the present and the future. "Hold fast and go forward."

Gov. Christianson for the State of Minnesota and Mrs. Sizer for the State W. C. T. U. welcomed the convention in very interesting speeches.

Community singing of stirring songs, the music of the large pipe organ, the salute to the flag, presentation of gifts to the officers, especially to beloved Frances Parks retiring corresponding secretary, were all interesting contributions to the programs.

Miss Cora Stoddard gave scientific reasons for the 18th amendment and stated that for years scientists have been experimenting to determine the effects of alcohol on the human system and have found that even the famous 2.75 per cent beer has an impairing effect.

The pageant, "Building the Wall" on Saturday was very inspiring. It represented the growth of the W. C. T. U. through the years and especially the last year when 51,840 new members have joined from Jan. 16 to May 8. A brick was placed in the wall for each ten members. The name of the captain securing them was on each brick.

A chorus of states, over 50 young women, led the singing, especially enthusiastic was the singing of the march song "Forward to Enforce the Constitution."

The Grand Diamond Medal contest was held Saturday evening, six young ladies from different states competing. The program was instructive and educational. The medal was won by Miss Gladys Wierick, of New York.

Dr. W. W. Peck, Educational Secretary of Prohibition Federation of Canada, reports that bootlegging flourishes in Canada under the government control system. The number has rather increased than lessened under government sale, which saves the bootlegger the trouble of finding his liquor. Customers are easily found and poverty and crime increase.

Mary Harris Arthur gave a deeply touching and inspiring sermon Sunday afternoon. Her text was from II Peter, 1:5-7. She said, "We must love the bootlegger instead of hating him and we could do more effective work against him. Patience, loving kindness, faith are all needed in our fight. There is no backward step. Prohibition can never be repealed."

A banquet at the New Nicolet hotel closed the convention Wednesday evening. Nine State Presidents spoke on prohibition conditions in their regions.

In Ohio campaigns where prohibition was an issue, Mrs. Florence Richard, of Toledo, declared "that in the past seven years we have never lost a battle."

"We do not use the draft system in this war," said Mrs. Richard. "Our soldiers enlist."

"The women of the country want prohibition and they are going to keep it. The W. C. T. U. is the pioneer among all associations devoted to child welfare."

"Prohibition is the best method" is our slogan and we will hold fast and go forward."

ALLOWED CAR OF BASS FINGERLINGS

Thousands of Fingerlings Taken From Natural Hatchery to Restock Lakes

Gull Lake Dam Could be Converted Into Hatchery for Pike Spawning a Little Cost

A natural fish hatchery that provides thousands of black bass fingerlings for restocking the lakes of the Brainerd Lake Region as well as lending assistance to other parts of the state and later promises to be a hatchery for the growth of pike is located at Gull River Dam, a short distance from Brainerd, under the protection of the Game and Fish department.

Only this week the fish hatchery car from the Glenwood Hatchery was allowed a full carload of bass fingerlings, the cans being distributed to the lakes around Hibbing and as far north as Ely. The car returned Thursday night and plan to send out another full carload by the first of next week.

Among the lakes in the district which have received cans of fingerlings recently are the following: South Long, North Long, Round, Twin Lakes, Hubert, Pelican, Cullen and Love.

John Huderlee of the Detroit Lakes Hatchery, with Deputy Game Warden V. P. Cardle, of this district are in charge, assisted by Walter Gilbertson and Eugene Craig from the Detroit Lakes Hatchery. Mr. Huderlee was of the opinion that the hatchery was the best natural fish hatchery in the state and that it could easily be converted into a hatchery for pike spawn at a very low cost.

Christ Hendrickson Contributes $15 to Fine and $20 to Generosity

IS HAPPY WOODSMAN

Gave 20 Boys One Dollar Each; Leaves Cigars for Policemen

Christ Hendrickson, good natured lumberjack who had made his stake, was $35 out today, $20 through generosity and $15 into the coffers of the municipal court.

Yesterday afternoon Hendrickson started out on a good natured drinking bee all by himself. Generous of nature and made more so by a few drinks he presented 20 young boys who he met each with a one dollar bill.

By the evening he became intoxicated and his arrest was brought about by Officer Erick Graft and Chief of Police Thomas Templeton after a slight resistance.

Arraigned in municipal court this morning he sheepishly admitted he had drank too much and a fine of $15 was imposed by Judge J. H. Warner.

"Did you know that you gave away $20 to boys yesterday?" Chief Templeton questioned Hendrickson.

"If I did, that is fine," said Hendrickson, "I like them."

Judge Warner advised him the next time he drank to do it in the woods. Hendrickson replied that he never cared for a drink while he was in the woods and working.

One of the lads who received a dollar bill by Hendrickson returned this morning to the police station. He felt he could not keep it. Had Hendrickson been in the office at the time he undoubtedly would have urged the boy to "hang on to it."

And before leaving, the tall heavy built middle aged, cheerful lumberjack gave each of the police officers a 25 cent cigar.

Ed. Hewitt pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication. On account of previous convictions on the same charge Hewitt was sentenced to 30 days in jail without option of fine.

William Brick was fined $10 for being intoxicated.

SONG HITS ADD ZEST TO REVUE

"Leave It To Gloria," Musical Comedy to be Presented at Park Theatre Sept. 13 and 14

SCORE COMPLETED

Five Different Melodies Make up Opening Chorus; Second Act Song Hits Announced

In this day of incessant jazz it is refreshing to the music lover to hear occasionally some music which while melodious and catchy is not written in the syncopated tempo of jazz. The score of "Leave It To Gloria," the musical comedy revue to be given at the Park theatre Sept. 13 and 14 by St. Francis Guild, is a pleasing, well-balanced combination of straight time music and the popular jazz type, and it is all of that lightheartedly quality that delights the ear when it is heard and lingers there a long time afterward. It is known as whistly.

The opening chorus is made up of five different melodies, all rollicking tunes in a nice variety of rhythms and tempos. Other catchy numbers are, "Just Like a Butterfly"; the fine ballad, "I Never Knew"; the song and dance duet, "Whisper Song"; the attractive little story song, "The Tale of a Comet" with its delightfully swing waltz refrain; the popular coon song, "I Want to See My Tennessee" to which the Pickanniny group romp through their dinky shuffles; the humorous patter song, "What Goes Up Must Come Down"; and the big ensemble number that closes the first act, "Away to the Hotel."

In the second act the song hits are "Just the Same" with the gold jazz girls in a lively dance; "Yesterday" in which the old fashioned Prim Roses appear with their luminous bouquets; the Rube character dance, "Hokey Pokey, Diddle-Dee-Run"; the Bowery number, "I Certainly Must Be in Love"; the patter duet, "Gee Whizz"; a real jazz number, "Down on Chesapeake Bay" with the Red and White radium girls; the spooky yama number, "Nightmare Blues"; and the big finale, "Leave It To Gloria."

Tonight's bill will be special to the public of Brainerd. Between the two vaudeville performances of five acts, a feature photoplay will be shown.

The bill tonight includes: Joe Madden, "The Jazz Juggler"; George P. Five Different Melodies Make up Opening Chorus; Second Act Song Hits Announced

In this day of incessant jazz it is refreshing to the music lover to hear occasionally some music which while melodious and catchy is not written in the syncopated tempo of jazz. The score of "Leave It To Gloria," the musical comedy revue to be given at the Park theatre Sept. 13 and 14 by St. Francis Guild, is a pleasing, well-balanced combination of straight time music and the popular jazz type, and it is all of that delightfully tuneful quality that delights the ear when it is heard and lingers there a long time afterward. It is known as whistly.

The opening chorus is made up of five different melodies, all rollicking tunes in a nice variety of rhythms and tempos. Other catchy numbers are, "Just Like a Butterfly"; the fine ballad, "I Never Knew"; the song and dance duet, "Whisper Song"; the attractive little story song, "The Tale of a Comet" with its delightfully swing waltz refrain; the popular coon song, "I Want to See My Tennessee" to which the Pickanniny group romp through their dinky shuffles; the humorous patter song, "What Goes Up Must Come Down"; and the big ensemble number that closes the first act, "Away to the Hotel."

In the second act the song hits are "Just the Same" with the gold jazz girls in a lively dance; "Yesterday" in which the old fashioned Prim Roses appear with their luminous bouquets; the Rube character dance, "Hokey Pokey, Diddle-Dee-Dee-Rum"; the Bowery number, "I Certainly Must Be in Love"; the patter duet, "Gee Whizz"; a real jazz number, "Down on Chesapeake Bay" with the Red and White radium girls; the spooky yama number, "Nightmare Blues"; and the big finale, "Leave It To Gloria."

POPULAR PHOToplay

Large Audience Will Assure Good Performance for Remainder of Season

W. R. Hiller, local manager of the F. and R. theatres in announcing the opening vaudeville at the Park theatre this evening stated that future performances throughout the season would depend largely on the patronage by the public to the opening shows.

Tonight's bill will be special to the public of Brainerd. Between the two vaudeville performances of five acts, a feature photoplay will be shown.

The bill tonight includes: Joe Madden, "The Jazz Juggler"; George P. Wilson and Addie, in comedy, singing and piano numbers; Lefevre's pedestal number, unicycle and bicycle trick and fancy riding; Talbert and Fisher, purveyors of popular songs; Miss Andrews, blues singer in dancing act assisted by boys.

A Beautiful Flower Adorns the Shoulder of Every Dress

It seems as though the dress lacks something if it does not have a lovely flower to set it off. There is a touch that a flower gives which adds so much to it, that one really needs one.

These beautiful flowers which we are showing just now are the loveliest that one could ask for.

Such a variety of colors, shapes and sizes that one can surely find just the one needed for their purpose.

There are ribbon flowers, feather flowers, silk flowers, all in a profusion of gay colors. Priced at

A Tribute to Workers Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5

The America in which we live is the creation of workers. All the dreams that have gone into the making of the nation would have been useless except for the keen brains and skillful hands of millions upon millions of working men and women—people who, in city and country alike, have labored faithfully and courageously at their countless appointed tasks.

This bank, on Labor Day, is proud to join in paying tribute to all those who work. And we value highly the privilege and the opportunity which we have as a bank of co-operating with workers in many lines to the end that they may accomplish more for themselves as a result of their labor.

"SUMMERLESS YEAR" DISPUTED BY MARVIN

CHIEF OF U. S. WEATHER BUREAU COMES BACK AT METEOROLOGISTS

CHARGES THEM WITH "DISTORTING THE FACTS" IN THE CASE

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Dr. Charles F. Marvin, Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, today came back at those meteorologists who contend this is a "summerless year," charging them with "distorting the facts."

"People are easily decided by these weather prophets," he declared in an interview with the United Press. "It is a shame to distort the facts."

Dr. Marvin admitted the weather this summer has been "unusual in some localities," and a "little cool" generally. But people who took to their blankets on occasion will have to go to their favorite local weather prognosticators or others to learn the reason, Marvin said frankly that he cannot explain it.

That August, he said, probably was the coolest on record in the capital, well-known for its steaming summers. According to reports from many other localities, they have had similar experiences.

"The weather is behaving in a peculiar way," he said. "It always has. The temperature this summer has been a little cool but on the whole crops haven't suffered."

The year without a summer?

Dr. Marvin laughed.

"I don't have to go back as far as 1816 to show one more strange," he said. "I can go back ten years and find one."

The year 1816 is the legendary "year without a summer."

Dr. Marvin regards that as a myth. "Weather reports in 1816 were very few," he explained. "There were two places in New England that were cold. But we always have freak spots in any year, and I doubt if crops generally suffered very much."

"We are not able to specify any particular cause for any particular weather abnormality. It all comes from the general circulation of the air, but that is begging the question, because we do not know what causes the peculiarities in the air movements. Whatever causes the strange weather."

It may be solar radiation, sun spots or something else, but the weather bureau does not consider any of these theories proved, and takes no stock in them in their present state of development.

"Solar radiation is the source, of course, of all warmth and heat activities," he said. "Any considerable fluctuation would affect the weather. But the best records show small variation. Sun spots never have been satisfactorily connected with weather."

Dr. C. G. Abbot, acting secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and weather expert, holds that the heat from the sun changes from week to week and that this affects the weather. Through a series of experiments, he is developing data which may make long-distance weather forecasts possible.

"The weather bureau," Marvin explained, "has to be conservative and sound, as the public depends upon us. If we went off in a haphazard manner on weather predictions, we would be laughed out of court."

JOESTING READY FOR GRIDIRON THIS FALL

Hubert, Minn., Sept. 3. — Herb Joesting, captain of the Gophers this fall, left these parts today. Since June 15th, Joesting has been a councillor at Camp Lincoln for Boys where he has been busy teaching the boys what he knows about forestry and taking them on truck and canoe trips.

In an interview just before he was leaving, Joesting would not open up on what he thought of the Gopher team this fall. He did consent to have his weight taken, and while aboard the scales, let out the remark that Minnesota's schedule was "plenty tough." Joesting is in excellent physical condition after leading an outdoor life in the woods all summer. The scales showed he weighed 194½ pounds clad in a tight fitting pair of blue swimming trunks.

Use of Ether in Surgery

FAIR AND WARMER FOR LABOR DAY OVER MOST OF GREAT LAKES

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Fair and warm weather for Labor Day over most of the Great Lakes, great plains and Mississippi and Missouri river valley regions was forecast by the weather bureau here today.

Unsettled conditions in a few districts may bring showers, but clear skies for holiday picnics will be the rule, the forecast indicated.

Cooler weather Sunday but unseasonable high temperatures Monday and Tuesday were forecast.

Showers in the lower lake region and unsettled conditions in southern Illinois were predicted. Partly cloudy weather in Nebraska and Kansas tomorrow also was forecast. Elsewhere week end celebrators are safe.

Beavers Fail to Make Any Assists

The Portland baseball club of the Pacific Coast league established or equaled what is believed to be a world's record at Oakland, Calif., by going through nine innings without an assist for the infield or outfield. Four assists in all were made by Portland, two by Elmer Ponder, pitcher, another by Carl Yerkes, pitcher, and the last by Fischer, catcher.

In August, 1926, the St. Louis Cardinals set a record of only two assists, but one was credited to Rogers Hornsby, second baseman.

Moore Is Life Saver

In the spring, Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees, said: "That fellow W.C. Moore may be the pitcher to save the pennant for us." The broad-shouldered Oklahoman has just about done that very little thing for the Yanks. Moore is shown in the photograph.

Sport Notes

Williams college athletes have not suffered a single reverse in dual track meets in eight years.

George Keogan, basket ball coach, has signed a contract to remain at Notre Dame during the 1927-28 season.

A pro tennis player can't make so very much money, when you figure what it costs to keep white shoes white.

The English Football association announces that 91,206 people witnessed the recent English cup soccer final at Wembley.

Willie Anderson is the only player who has won the United States open golf championship for three successive years.

Jockeys Sande and Thurber now have a business agent to arrange for all of their mounts outside of their regular stables.

Princeton university football squad will report September 15 for practice. Coach Bill Roper has 39 men as a nucleus for his varsity.

In the future Western conference athletes will not be permitted to write articles of a technical nature for newspapers, magazines or syndicates.

A new sports area, to be known as the garden and costing $3,000,000, is to be built in Kensington in the north-eastern part of Philadelphia, Pa.

Dorothy Johnson, captain of the Edmonton Grads, basket ball champions of Canada, holds a world's record for shooting foul throws, with a mark of 52 out of 60 tries.

George Nelson, holder of the national senior A. A. U. handball title, will engage in a lengthy tour through the country, meeting state and local champions in exhibition matches.

REPORT LARGE SUBMARINE IS GROUNDED

RUMOR PLACES THE SITE 50 MILES ABOVE CORPUS CHRISTI

NEARBY, ACCORDING TO REPORTS, LIES UNEXPLODED DEPTH BOMB

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Boats from Fort Crockett today were cruising the coast of Texas to a point about fifty miles above Corpus Christi, where it is reported that a large submarine is grounded, according to the reports, nearby lies an unexploded depth bomb.

The submarine is only a hulk and is a large boat with no identification marks according to meager reports here. Reports made to officials at Fort Crockett late yesterday started an immediate investigation.

Fort Crockett, Galveston, Texas, Sept. 3.—(UP)—No report of a submarine stranded on the coast about 50 miles north of Corpus Christi has been made to the flying field here, army officials said today.

Port Aransas, Texas, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Members of the coast guard at the station here, a few miles north of Corpus Christi, have had no reports of a submarine on the coast in this vicinity.

TWO LONG DISTANCE FLIGHTS PLANNED

Detroit, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Final preparations were underway here today for two long distance flights, both involving ocean spans of at least 2,500 miles.

Ruth Elder, Alabama aviatrix, and George Whaldeman, Florida, her navigator, planned to leave for Lakeland, Fla., early next week in a Stinson monoplane in which ultimately they expected to fly from New York to Paris.

Captain Frederick A. Giles, Australian pilot, also planned to get away early next week in a Hess biplane on the first leg of a "solo" flight destined to end at Wellington, N. Z.

En route to New Zealand, Giles planned to stop at Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Carson City, San Francisco, Honolulu, Fiji Islands, Brisbane and Sydney, Australia.

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. W. I. NOLAN

Minneapolis, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. I. Nolan, wife of the lieutenant governor of Minnesota, will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Linton Hills Congregational church here.

Mrs. Nolan, a native of Rochester, Minn., died early Friday at her home here.

Tired of Liver Diet?

Apricots Just as Good

Rochester, N. Y.—Anemics who have had to eat liver until they revolted at the word itself may obtain a little variety with apricots, peaches and prunes. Recently experiments at the University of Rochester medical school by Drs. G. H. Whipple and F. S. Robscheit-Robbins indicate that, although liver and kidney are by far the most potent food materials for the regeneration of the red blood corpuscles, certain other animal organs and several fruits are also effective, and hence can be used to vary the diet in anemia.

A long-debated question in medicine is whether iron must be in organic combination before it can be utilized by the body in regenerating the iron-containing hemoglobin, or whether a simple inorganic salt of iron, such as ferrous carbonate, will suffice. Apparently the form of iron and the quantity in which it occurs are not the deciding factors.

Beef kidney contains three times as much iron as does beef liver, but the latter is far more effective in blood regeneration. Raspberries contain more iron than do apricots and peaches, but are inert in blood regeneration. There is certain evidence that some unknown substance is supplied by the effective foods, and that it enables the body to utilize the iron.

JOESTING IN CHARGE OF FORESTRY EXHIBIT AT THE STATE FAIR

Hubert, Minn., Sept. 3. — Herb Joesting, Minnesota's All-American fullback, will have charge of the exhibit of the Forestry Department of the State of Minnesota at the State Fair Sep. 3 to 10th. As a part of the exhibit, Joesting will exhibit how easy it is to stay aboard a big log. Joesting has spent his summer as a councillor at Camp Lincoln for Boys. On several trips taken from the camp, Joesting has had considerable experience and fun rolling logs for the amusement of the camp and also on a special canoe trip into the Canadian woods. Joesting successfully defended his fame as Log Rolling Champ against several of the best of old-time lumberjacks.

Dr. Marvin laughed. "I don't have to go back as far as 1816 to show one more strange," he said. "I can go back ten years and find one."

The year 1816 is the legendary "year without a summer."

Dr. Marvin regards that as a myth. "Weather reports in 1816 were very few," he explained. "There were two places in New England that were cold. But we always have freak spots in any year, and I doubt if crops generally suffered very much."

"We are not able to specify any particular cause for any particular weather abnormality. It all comes from the general circulation of the air, but that is begging the question, because we do not know what causes the peculiarities in the air movements. Whatever causes the strange weather."

It may be solar radiation, sun spots or something else, but the weather bureau does not consider any of these theories proved, and takes no stock in them in their present state of development.

"Solar radiation is the source, of course, of all warmth and heat activities," he said. "Any considerable fluctuation would affect the weather. But the best records show small variation. Sun spots never have been satisfactorily connected with weather."

Dr. C. G. Abbot, acting secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and weather expert, holds that the heat from the sun changes from week to week and that this affects the weather. Through a series of experiments, he is developing data which may make long-distance weather forecasts possible.

"The weather bureau," Marvin explained, "has to be conservative and sound, as the public depends upon us. If we went off in a hap-hazard manner on weather predictions, we would be laughed out of court."

JOESTING READY FOR GRIDIRON THIS FALL

Hubert, Minn., Sept. 3.—Herb Joesting, captain of the Gophers this fall, left these parts today. Since June 15th, Joesting has been a councillor at Camp Lincoln for Boys where he has been busy teaching the boys what he knows about forestry and taking them on truck and canoe trips.

In an interview just before he was leaving, Joesting would not open up on what he thought of the Gopher team this fall. He did consent to have his weight taken, and while aboard the scales, let out the remark that Minnesota's schedule was "plenty tough." Joesting is in excellent physical condition after leading an outdoor life in the woods all summer. The scales showed he weighed 194½ pounds clad in a tight fitting pair of blue swimming trunks.

Use of Ether in Surgery

Ether was first used as an anesthetic for a surgical operation by Dr. William Thomas Green Morton in 1846. In the same year he obtained a patent for its use under the name of "Ilethen."

FAIR AND WARMER FOR LABOR DAY OVER MOST OF GREAT LAKES

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Fair and warm weather for Labor Day over most of the Great Lakes, great plains and Mississippi and Missouri river valley regions was forecast by the weather bureau here today.

Unsettled conditions in a few districts may bring showers, but clear skies for holiday picnics will be the rule, the forecast indicated.

Cooler weather Sunday but unseasonable high temperatures Monday and Tuesday were forecast.

Showers in the lower lake region and unsettled conditions in southern Illinois were predicted. Partly cloudy weather in Nebraska and Kansas tomorrow also was forecast. Elsewhere week end celebrators are safe.

Beavers Fail to Make Any Assists

The Portland baseball club of the Pacific Coast league established or equaled what is believed to be a world's record at Oakland, Calif., by going through nine innings without an assist for the infield or outfield. Four assists in all were made by Portland, two by Elmer Ponder, pitcher, another by Carl Yerkes, pitcher, and the last by Fischer, catcher.

In August, 1926, the St. Louis Cardinals set a record of only two assists, but one was credited to Rogers Hornsby, second baseman.

Moore Is Life Saver

In the spring, Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees, said: "That fellow Wiley Moore may be the pitcher to save the pennant for us." The broad-shouldered Oklahoman has just about done that very little thing for the Yanks. Moore is shown in the photograph.

Sport Notes

Williams college athletes have not suffered a single reverse in dual track meets in eight years.

George Keogan, basket ball coach, has signed a contract to remain at Notre Dame during the 1927-28 season.

A pro tennis player can't make so very much money, when you figure what it costs to keep white shoes white.

The English Football association announces that 91,206 people witnessed the recent English cup soccer final at Wembley.

Willie Anderson is the only player who has won the United States open golf championship for three successive years.

Joeckes Sande and Thurber now have a business agent to arrange for all of their mounts outside of their regular stables.

Princeton university football squad will report September 15 for practice. Coach Bill Roper has 39 men as a nucleus for his varsity.

In the future Western conference athletes will not be permitted to write articles of a technical nature for newspapers, magazines or syndicates.

A new sports area, to be known as the garden and costing $3,000,000, is to be built in Kensington in the north-eastern part of Philadelphia, Pa.

Dorothy Johnson, captain of the Edmonton Grads, basket ball champions of Canada, holds a world's record for shooting foul throws, with a mark of 52 out of 60 tries.

George Nelson, holder of the national senior A. A. U. handball title, will engage in a lengthy tour through the country, meeting state and local champions in exhibition matches.

REPORT LARGE SUBMARINE IS GROUNDED

RUMOR PLACES THE SITE 50 MILES ABOVE CORPUS CHRISTI

NEARBY, ACCORDING TO REPORTS, LIES UNEXPLODED DEPTH BOMB

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Boats from Fort Crockett today were cruising the coast of Texas to a point about fifty miles above Corpus Christi, where it is reported that a large submarine is grounded, according to the reports, nearby lies an unexploded depth bomb.

The submarine is only a hulk and is a large boat with no identification marks according to meager reports here. Reports made to officials at Fort Crockett late yesterday started an immediate investigation.

Fort Crockett, Galveston, Texas, Sept. 3.—(UP)—No report of a submarine stranded on the coast about 50 miles north of Corpus Christi has been made to the flying field here, army officials said today.

Port Aransas, Texas, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Members of the coast guard at the station here, a few miles north of Corpus Christi, have had no reports of a submarine on the coast in this vicinity.

TWO LONG DISTANCE FLIGHTS PLANNED

Detroit, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Final preparations were underway here today for two long distance flights, both involving ocean spans of at least 2,500 miles.

Ruth Elder, Alabama aviatrix, and George Whaldeman, Florida, her navigator, planned to leave for Lakeland, Fla., early next week in a Stinson monoplane in which ultimately they expected to fly from New York to Paris.

Captain Frederick A. Giles, Australian pilot, also planned to get away early next week in a Hess biplane on the first leg of a "solo" flight destined to end at Wellington, N. Z.

En route to New Zealand, Giles planned to stop at Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Carson City, San Francisco, Honolulu, Fiji Islands, Brisbane and Sydney, Australia.

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. W. I. NOLAN

Minneapolis, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. I. Nolan, wife of the lieutenant governor of Minnesota, will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Linton Hills Congregational church here.

Mrs. Nolan, a native of Rochester, Minn., died early Friday at her home here.

Tired of Liver Diet? Apricots Just as Good

Rochester, N. Y.—Anemics who have had to eat liver until they revolted at the word itself may obtain a little variety with apricots, peaches and prunes. Recently experiments at the University of Rochester medical school by Drs. G. H. Whipple and F. S. Robscheit-Robbins indicate that, although liver and kidney are by far the most potent food materials for the regeneration of the red blood corpuscles, certain other animal organs and several fruits are also effective, and hence can be used to vary the diet in anemia.

A long-debated question in medicine is whether iron must be in organic combination before it can be utilized by the body in regenerating the iron-containing hemoglobin, or whether a simple inorganic salt of iron, such as ferrous carbonate, will suffice. Apparently the form of iron and the quantity in which it occurs are not the deciding factors.

Beef kidney contains three times as much iron as does beef liver, but the latter is far more effective in blood regeneration. Raspberries contain more iron than do apricots and peaches, but are inert in blood regeneration. There is certain evidence that some unknown substance is supplied by the effective foods, and that it enables the body to utilize the iron.

Male Sopranos

It is possible for a man to have a high soprano voice. In fact, at the Vatican in Rome there is an entire choir composed of male sopranos.

JOESTING IN CHARGE OF FORESTRY EXHIBIT AT THE STATE FAIR

Hubert, Minn., Sept. 3.—Herb Joesting, Minnesota's All-American fullback, will have charge of the exhibit of the Forestry Department of the State of Minnesota at the State Fair Sep. 3 to 10th. As a part of the exhibit, Joesting will exhibit how easy it is to stay aboard a big log. Joesting has spent his summer as a councillor at Camp Lincoln for Boys. On several trips taken from the camp, Joesting has had considerable experience and fun rolling logs for the amusement of the camp and also on a special canoe trip into the Canadian woods, Joesting successfully defended his fame as Log Rolling Champ against several of the best of old-time lumberjacks.
